Frank Dunbaugh Papers

Series 1: Diary, May – September 1945

SC2016.078

Transcribed by Margaret Long, 2018

Salisbury University Nabb Research Center Special Collections
Preferred citation: Item, collection name, [Box #, Folder #,] Edward H. Nabb Research Center for Delmarva History and Culture, Salisbury University, Salisbury, Maryland.

7 May

"Detachment I 12 B 3 - you

Major Dunbaugh, Captain Cope, Lieutenant Lanning, and 5 enlisted men will [sic/] t [/sic] proceed to Hersbruck, east of Nuremburg where you will take over military government of the Kreis." 12th Army groups at Wiesbaden was too intent on radio bulletins announcing the final surrender of the Germans to give more detailed instructions. We did a little celebrating ourselves.

8 May Today we saw the wort destruction yet. What I saw in World War I and even at last summer

St Lo in Normandy ^ cannot compare with the wreckage of Frankfurt and Wurzburg. Am told the latter was 80% destroyed over one flaming day in March. A city that is listed as 80% destroyed is nothing but a ghostly wreck. This evening we reached Erlangen where we reported first to 3rd Army Rear, then to Major Adair of Military Government. He has been handling Hersbruck in addition to Erlangen awaiting my arrival. Major Adair is young, tall, pleasant, capable. When Herbruck was mentioned his German male secretary frowned. "You will find the people in that region a little difficult," he told us

"Yes," smiled Major Adair, "you're bound for one of the Nazi strongholds. Some of them don't realize yet that Nazism is Kaput. We've already had to throw out one Landrat." (The Landrat is the head of the Kreis government of the Kreis "The area is awash with Poles, Czechs, Russians, and other DPs whom our troops have released from the camps where had been the Germans ^ working them like slaves digging out tunnels for underground factories.

Naturally these birds are raining Hell with the Germans. You can't blame them, but it makes for trouble. And don't go out after dark. One jeep load of U. S. soldiers was ambushed and shot the other night over near Amberg."

[circled] our public safety officer [circled]

9. May I Sent Lt. Lanning ^ and two

E. M. ahead to locate temporary billets,

the rest of the

Capt Cope + I following with others

Detachment.

When we saw the sign "Hersbruck Kreis," Capt Cope signaled across the jeeps at me.

"Sir, we are entering your domain," He rolled off the words with dramatic effect as though he were Cardinal Wolsey addressing Henry VIII.

Hersbruck Kreis I a country of hills and valleys with dozens of tiny villages, each dominated by its Church spire. All the houses have red thatched roofs. Riding along you can always distance, nestling in the see two or three villages off in the ^ folds of the hills.

Franconian villages

These ^ look just as they did in the backgrounds of medieval and early renaissance paintings —

the background figures are rough

the only difference is that ^ U.S. soldiers carrying automatic machine guns + riding in jeeps make plumed panoplied

the foreground instead of ^ knights on ^ chargers.

Burgements reports 55,000 RMs spent on reconstruction of parish towns

Besides U. S. soldiers, the roads are clogged with wagons, bicycles, ox drawn carts, men wearing leather shorts, suspenders and green hats; women wearing bright red shirts, white blouse and peach bodices. Everywhere are children, ducks, geese and cows. All fat. After seeing nothing but the spindly children and black garbed old women of ruined Normandy and then the complete desolation of the large cities of Germany, this little section has all the [word strikethrough] appearances

^ of a principality of Graustark, untouched by war. I almost expect to hear Jeanette McDonald singing "Beyond the Blue Horizon."

Our jeeps rolled under the West Gate Tower into the old section of the city of Hersbruck, rattling across the cobble stone Market Place to the moated castle. Now the office of the

and a German

Landrat. Here we met Lt. Lanning ^ who said the Landrat was waiting inside for me. Harking back to my ^ School of Military government. Charlottesville, instructions I said No. We would choose our headquarters. Then I would call the Landrat up to see me. Lt. Lanning had already located a perfect headquarters,

Charlottesville

new

a rather pretentious ^ building on the Michelsburg Hill with an impressive terrace looking out over the roofs of the old city. The Nazis used it as a Hitler Youth school. Frau Schmidt, the real owner, and another old woman scurried about arranging our effects, stopping to bow + grimace every time one of us passed. Pfc. Gutbrod, whose German is as good as his English and who used to be in the restaurant business, took charge of the kitchen. Frau Schmidt + another old drony waited on table. Capt Cope discouraged a cache of wine. Our first dinner was a grand success.

Dr. Matt,

10 May
The Landrat, ^ arrived this morning as ordered. He is a small, oily man with big ears. He looks just like a rat. "Maybe that's why they chose him." Lt. Lanning suggested. He acted scared to death, explaining that he had just been put in by Maj. Adair, that his father had been thrown in a concentration camp by the Nazis, that he himself was attorney in a civil case against Hitler

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled in 1932. "Naturally I lost the case." ^ "Hitler was already powerful. He and his gang ran up of several thousand marks a bill ^ at a Nuremberg hotel, then refused to pay, but the Nazi judge dismissed the case. From then on I had trouble finding clients. Finally in 1939 I gave up, joined the party and was given a small administrative post here in Hersbruck.

After telling Dr. Matt that, for the time anyways, being he would stay on as Landrat. I barked [circled]Capt Cope, Lt Lanning and^[circled] out a list of 30 or 40 orders, each with a date on which it was to be completed.

"Bulletin Boards are to be built in each of the 39 Germanide Proclamations and Ordinants of military government are to be posted on them by 15 May. All officials will fill out fragebogens (questionnaires) and present themselves for interview with C.I.C. Your report that their screening has been accomplished will reach this headquarters not later than 18 May on each Germanide – normal population, number of bombed out refugees from other parts of Germany, number of D.Ps( "displaced persons ) foreigners brought into Germany by Nazis ) number of former German soldiers"

And so it went for three quarters of an hour. The perspiration ran down the Landrat's down our puzzled face as he took ^ my dictation peremptory dictation. He had come to pay a formal call of respect and he ran into these machine gun orders hitting him like enfilade fire from three grim, scowling American officers.

Finally I snapped out my last order
"By 0900 – 15 May you will give me a complete list of all Wehrmacht horses distributed throughout Hersbruck Freis."
"Ja voll. Ja voll."

The Landrat glanced shyly at the interpreter then whispered something hesitantly. The interpreter turned to me.

"The Landrat says that is one report he can give you at once, sir. There is [sic circled] ^ just [sic circled] Wehrmacht horse in Hersbruck Kreis."

remark conquerors to conquest buchar that ^ spoiled our torture room scene. Jovial Capt Cope chuckled openly, glad of an excuse to drop the surveillance role of Inquisitor. Lt. Lanning moved + I guess I did too the corners of my mouth twitched. The Landrat looked visibly relieved.

No sooner had the Landrat left than Capt Cope knocked and entered my office again. This time his face was grave, "The burgermeister of a town called Hartenstein has sent in a runner. 800 Poles in a camp near there are rioting. The camp adjoins a powder factory."

"I am devil

groshed, where the hell is Hartenstein?" I asked my German interpreter.

"Here it, sir." he showed me on the map.

"Near Velden."

"What about the powder plant? What kind of powder do they manufacture?"

"That is aluminum powder, sir,

for painting airplanes, I guess. But I think it is most explosive, sir, very."

We hopped in a jeep + rushed to the commanding cof the dis

headquarters of Col. Jackson, C. O. of infantry troops billeted in Heresbruck. He agreed to ground the covey Hersching set out at once with

D. R. camps. Lt. Lanning ^ + one of those v officers

at once responding

Setting out ^ for Hartenstein to look the situation over.

"Damn these Germans.," the Colonel exploded

"They brought these jokers here. Now the krauts are paying the penalty."

6[circled]

Stazenhov is bombarding every U.S. commander Col. Wormand myself- + others for more of everything – automobile, gasoline, food, clothing. We have a directive that Russian officers are to be returned home. [circled]back to Russia[circled]

"Oh how I wish I could go^."
Capt Stazenhov sighed "But I could never leave my compatriots to the mercy of these dastardly Germans. he the interpreter translated he watched the expression in my eyes – apparently he noted a lack of human sympathy for his poor Russians or he took a new lack. "Alas I am the only one the Russians will obey. I suggest you shall see – no discipline robberies, looting, maybe murders.
No. I must stay with my people to the last."

23 May We have orders to furnish a report on everything imaginable. Capt Cope is - "The next- Tomorrow they'll ask: (1) how many fleas bit how many dogs in Hersbruck between Jan 18 + Mar 18 1945? (2) How many flies during the year 1938?

[?] acceleration

(3) What is your estimate of ^ flea bite increase deceleration

Or decrease for your area for period
July 18 – Sept 18, 1945. (4) Give reasons. Remember it is essential to give close surveillance to reduce of flea bite acceleration + report demi weekly as outlined in pas 3 +7 of SHAREF handbook, as nodified by directive 32? Third Army and other Directives of various higher headquarters.
My chauffer brought us a Mercedes-Benz convertible sedan
which I find pretty suitable.

24 May (Youths former members of Hitler Jugend) have been put to work cleaning debris from streets. Government working so hard they would

is trying to keep them busy to keep them from[have] no every left to form groups. Today my chauffer told me he could furnish for me a much better automobile than the old jalopy turned over by B

When we had finished our business today the Landrat asked rather wistfully "What am I to do now for transportation" "Why, what do you mean?"

"Now that you have taken my car what how am I to get around to see the Burgermeisters."

I hastened to advise him that I did not know it was his car
I was taking, but would see that he got another.

Wahleder, the former magnate of Dachair wants city of Hersbruck to build him a house

25 May The banks opened today, all Nazi official, having past been thrown out In spite of having been warned I was surprised to find more deposits than withdrawals U.S. Army Trucks from Amberg + points east are dropping Sudetenlanders all over the Kreis. The G. I. drivers are lotd to find a likely spot, dump their passengers + hightail home before anyone can catch them. Capt Cope + I jeeped to Amberg to try to stop it. "Yes we're doing it." a perplexed lieutenant admitted "Everyone else is doing it to us. If we don't fire them along somewhere we'll be a damaging grand." "Well cut Hersbruck off your list of" I advised. "We have a grand at [?]

+ Kreis trump them back. This was the stopped "I don't know how much army gasoline is being wanted on despised traipsing these pwos souls from one spot to another." I talked but I knew our tropps in Hersbruck were doing the same thing. Our border guards were instructed to act as a one way valve letting everyone out, but no one in. "On was 26 I received an "order" from

Schwallen the Belgian not to interfere with men working for Dogg:

to interfere with men working for Doggar plant signed "Allon Schwallen – Attorney for U.S. Garrison troops"

Schwallen is the Belgian. I saw red, but Maj Gen Vaus Vlech +

Gen Krane are inspected the under ground factory today + I went along.

Schwallen described acted as guide showing long flight of steps up which he was forced to arm which gestapo flogged his naked back of workers

the crematory of the thousands who died under inhuman treatment the [?] Comm Cap

Afterward Gen Kane asked me specifically not to interfere with this valuable man

7[circled]

"But we can't allow civil war," Capt Cope protested.

"Of course not," the colonel agreed.

"We'll throw a guard around the camp and get to it

- if we can find the place^. The bridge is down between here + Velden. We're having beanedays trouble, too, at the D. P. camps near Happurg. The krauts won't give the Russians enough to eat. The Russian commander, Captain Stazenhov, has been on my neck. I'll toss him over on you now you're here. Come down and have a drink with me at 1700 tomorrow. He's to be here."

We agreed, and saluted and went back to our headquarters where I had a talk with the German Finance Officer, whom I ordered to start collecting taxes not later than 25 May.
This afternoon I toured Hersbruck city
my chauffer was a local character named + environs. with Frederich Schaffer,
a local man who spent several years

in the U.S. and talks speakeasy American slang out of the side of his mouth. We visited Lagers (barracks to me) where released Poles, Russians
former victims

Yugoslavs, and other slaves of the Nazi warlords are now quartered.

the

Everywhere ^newly freed slaves appear happy, dirty, and drunk. Shcafer kept up story a running constant, punctuated with winks, shrugs + gestures of the great exploit of his life.

"he pouted,"

"Maybe nobody told you, ^ but I was turned de guy dat ^ Hersbruck over to de American sojers. Yeah. De Bergemeister, he told me to take 'em a white flag and I done it. Risked getting rubbed out, too. Dem S.S.ers was from all sides.

sniping . De American sojers was in der tanks but me I was right out on me bike wavin' a white flag" I found When in America Schaffer was business agent for a topical union. He showed me a worn soiled letter dated 1928 on the union stationary. I find he's in charge of the motor pool and of Hersbruck Kreis

gasoline distribution. ^ Cant help imagining
he is looking after Shufer pretty well, when distributing gasoline (and gasoline is worth more than gold over here)

6 June Continue ignorant little

Dr Zenger the ^ Catholic priest came to see me today. I want to ask the Commandant's advice" he began. "The Prince of Bavaria is in the internment camp here at Hersbruck. Today after co
Today after confession The Prince of Bavaria gave me two letters.
One to our Cardinal, the other to your American Robert Murphy. What am I to do?

"Go right back to the Internment camp as fast as you can + hand the letters over to the Commanding Officer." I was stern about it.

A few minutes later the C.O. of the camp called me up, mad as a wet him. "He ought to be arrested carrying letters out of the camp like that," he shouted over the phone.

Well he took them right back. Let's forget about it.

"Alright but I'll never let him in here again." (and sure enough as long as that particular officer was in command Dr. Zenger was excluded. In fact the good priest frightened

was so afraid that he told me
he would never go near the camp again.

We[I] raided the office of the Herman Goering mine works, but found nothing but mine plans. This afternoon I had a conference of all the current plant owners in Hersbruck kreis. All need coal to operate. Now know how to get it one speaks perfect English, wears clothes that look as though they came from Bond St. He grates on me by talking as though now the stupid war was over we business men would of course work together again as though nothing had happened. After he had brought up casually that he had rather extensive business interests in Great Britain. I asked if he had ever visited.

with an Oxford accent

he drawled "No not really. || Ive just been to New York.: I was not amused.

11 May
The Germans have surrendered a car for my use but it doesn't amount to much. I visited Har Hohenstadt, Eschenbach, Alfalter, Voma, and Rupprechstegen today giving proclamations to burgermeisters.

big hospital

At the latter I discovered an unguarded German military hospital filled with Luftwaffe officers + got the 4th Dir Infantry to put a guard on it.

Lt. Lamming, is bringing in dozens of S.S. troops, ortsgruppenleiters and others who are on his list as automatic arrests. He has set up a room in the cellar where he questions them. Reached by a winding stone staircase this underground cubicle has all the look of a medieval torture chamber. The who always watches me with cat eyes Landrat ^ may very well be comparing me to a 14th century robber baron as he watches me with cat eyes as I sit as I sit urbane, courteous [circled] and above[circled] in my wainscotted audience chamber while below stairs the former rulers of Hersbruck are being sometimes a little roughly grilled ^ as a prelude to being thrown behind the barbed wire of the Internment Camps.

Most of these high monkey monks of Nazidom look cowed and innocuous enough, but one close cropped, beady eyed S.S. Major glowered at us all day long as he sat in the reception room waiting his turn below stairs. Each time Capt. Cope passed the Nazi Colonel glared at him with sneering eyes. Each time Capt Cope gave back a him a cold haughty stare in return.

About 4 pm the captain could stand it no longer. Thrusting out his chin toward snorted the rigid Nazi he roared "YAAUGH" and disappeared into his office.

Promptly at 5 P.M. Capt Cope and I put in our appearance at Colonel J's headquarters. He received us in his low ceilinged bedroom above his office in the gasthaus. From the window we looked out over the Market Place, the former Nazi Headquarters and the ruins of the City Hall, buried by a a couple of weeks as a just

Nazi werwolf soon after our troops took the city. I admired the 15th century frescos on the remaining wall of the Rathaus. "Nice art I guess," smiled the Colonel "but I have made inquiries. It was painted in 1938 and is full of Nazi ideology." symbolism. My boys have already chiseled the swastika off the War Memorial. Now we'll have to go to work on the city Hall,"

Just then Captain Stazenhov entered, stiffened and gave a Russian salute, after which his coarse, sensual face broke into a childlike smile. There followed much handshaking and toasting of the allies, Truman, Stalin and what not from Colonel J's excellent Russian stock.

Then the Russian, broached through the interpreter broached the reason for his visit. He wanted to parade all the newly liberated Europeans down to the Market Place for a ceremony of thanksgiving for their deliverance. Colonel J looked at me.

I thought fast. I didn't want to cause hard feeling with our enthusiastic allies, but the mass meeting in the center of the city sounded like a trouble breeder. The Russian captain was watching me sternly yet pleadingly.

"We'll do better than that." I told him. "We shall come to you. The ceremony will be right out at your main camp" He blinked for a minute, then broke into a smile. "All right. That is most generous. Sunday afternoon at 2 pm – and later at 5 pm a little gathering of the higher officers at my quarters. Yes?"

We all shook hands, had another drink and headed for home.

12 May The 408FA group is replacing the Division

Colonel I's 4 Infantry ^ which is headed for home having fought the war from the Normandy beaches right up to the Bavarian Alps.

"Are the Alps beautiful?" I asked Colonel J. this morning.

"Well" he replied "the day peace was declared I looked up at those mountains and suddenly realized they were beautiful. But For the two weeks before that while I was sweating out an order to attack, they looked anything but alluring beautiful to me."

This afternoon

13 May – Sunday – ^ Arranged in our formal uniforms, forest green jac we joined officers from the 4 Division and 408FA group to represent the U.S. at the liberation ceremony. At the camp near Happurg we were met by a mob of several thousand men, women and children carrying home made national emblems of Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Italy.

We were conducted to an improvised platform. Stazenhov, wearing his overcoat despite the heat, made an impassioned harangue. He was followed by a Pole and a Czech. Young girls presented the U.S. officers with bouquets of flowers. Then each nation paraded by the receiving stand singing, I suppose, their national anthems. At any rate I kept ordering the U.S. Officers to hand salute every time I heard a new piece of music. Each group presented me with the banner of their country, patched together out of what stray pieces of cloth they had been able to fine.

In reply to all this I made a short speech which was translated into German, then into Polish, then into I don't know what. It apparently gained in power and length as it went from language to language because while the each interpreter puffed and gestured and perspired, the crowd cheered and clapped, and whooped. As I sat down Capt Cope whispered in my ear, "I don't know what you're running for, but I guess you're elected." Then he added, "Remember this is the high point in your popularity with these people. drop steady From now on it will go down." [Note written later What a prophet he turned out to be?]

14 May
I hear the party which I failed to attend at Capt Stazenhov's was quite an affair – girls – wine – cognac – vodka – music – This morning some of the officers present who were there learned that they had unknowingly
A been fraternizing with Germans. Many of Stazenhov's guests both men and women were German friends of his.

[erased]14 May[erased] More and more arrests. Today we replaced the burgermeister of Reichenserand with a non Nazi.
The burgermeister of Hersbruck, Michael Roiger came with the Landrat to as me what to do about the demands of the Russian captain for more and more food, liquor, shoes and clothing.

Scarcely had he left when Capt Stazenhov himself appeared wearing his large winter overcoat although beads of sweat poured down his face. After the usual salutes I begged him to take off the overcoat.

"No it is all the uniform I have I must wear it." Then he announced that he must have an automobile to visit his camps. When I demurred he cried, "I am sick. I am so sick" and fell into a chair.

Am sure I don't know how we are going to handle this D.P. problem. The Germans complain that the foreigners steal everything not behind bolts. The DPs claim the Germans, who starved them for years, still won't give them enough to eat.

This afternoon I made an airplane survey of Hersbruck Kreis in one of the 408 th's Piper Cubs. We went up the vally of the Pegnitz past Vona and Rupprechstegen, dropping low as I could see where the bridge dropped low across the Pegnit- We circled over the dozens of little round turrets of the aluminum powder factory, passed the [?] of the town of over ^ Velden almost completely destroyed

Herman

then circled the Goering's castle at Neuhaus. Two big motor cars with great long hoods are still in the courtyard. Am afraid hopeful he'll never need them.

Coming south again we past over Hohenstein castle, Reichenswand castles down to Oppenhauser and Alfeld, then North again past the great gash in the mountains that marks the underground factory at near Happurg. I could see derrides locomotives and steam shovels, the barracks where the Nazis kept their slave laborers, even the brick building with the tall chimney where I am told they burned the bodies of the hundreds who died on the job.

A few miles further along on the same hilltop is the cave where German scientists discovered the bones of prehistoric animals who lived in caves for protection from their enemies. This one hillside represents the complete turn of the wheel of civilization

^ from cave life to cave life.

15 May We have ordered the Landrat to collect all useable trucks to haul food, milk and essential supplies. With no railroads yet, no canals functioning and only a few automobile trucks left, transport-

[circled]major[circled] tation in this area is a ^ problem. We are also rounding up all the Displaced Persons into camps to try to get some order into the Kreis and cut down on robberies. We have contacted every echelon of the army trying to learn what can be done about sending these people back to their homes, but there seems to be a certain amount of confusion as to what is to be done and who is to do it.

We have demanded our functions as follows: Major Dunbaugh – Civilian Administration, Finance, Summary Court Officer, Education, Communication, (telephone + postal) Transportation.

Captain Cope – Public Welfare, Public Health, Agriculture, Food and Food Distribution, Trade and Industry, Economics and Labor, Property Custodian (taking control of all property formerly owned by the German government, any Nazi organization or by any influential Nazi) Historical, Rationing and Price Control.

1st Lt Lanning

Public Safety (the biggest job of all right now. It includes the arrest of high ranking Nazis and anyone deemed a threat to the security of U.S. troops,) Displaced Persons, Public Works, Public Utilities, Legal.

When I look at anyone of our lists I gasp and decide superman himself couldn't handle it.

Our water supply failed today due to 50% overload of refugees plus internment camps + U.S. troops. Latter Colonel Edward M. Haight, commanding Detachment F2A3 visited is today this afternoon and proved exceedingly genial and easy to get along with. That is good because his team handles whole Ober the ^ Regierungsbezirk of upper + Mettel Franken of which Heresbruch is just one Kreis. When we reach the "static phase" of military government operation we shall report to him Division instead of to the ^ Corps Commander.

16 May Colonel Js outfit left today, but Colonel Normand, but Col Craig, Major Peake, and the rest of the 408th are just as easy to work with It is a pleasure to deal with combat troops. They go ahead and do things where as at Com Z every minor move requires a conference of a general's staff plus three weeks of waiting for the orders to be cut.

The bugermeister of Hersbruck City tells me several Truebloods of Poles have been dumped on him. He has no idea where to put them. We I told him that was his problem but he would have to quarter and feed them. He also complains of loot-radios, rugs, lamps, wine, cognachaving been confiscated during first week of our occupation on orders of a U.S. Major named Philadelphia. Sounds more like a G.I. to me.

We have had to requisition a lot more buildings for incoming troops.

Today we ordered an inventory of money, bonds, stamps at the Post Office. A new directive lists Italians as [?].

Am glad General Eisenhower did not see me accepting the Italians flag at the "liberation: ceremony Sunday.

We had Colonel Normand and his staff for dinner tonight. It was the first time since the fighting began that they had sat
at a daintily laid out table with tablecloth, silverware, wine in goblets, +c. and it made a great [?] they enjoyed it. But the bit of the meal was hard boiled eggs, "real eggs" the Colonel something - "not a scrambled mush made out of powder. I'd forgotten what they looked like -or how good they tasted"

I called the bankers together 17 May this morning and ordered the removal of all old live Nazi party memberships. This included most of those at the meeting. When we got through denazifying our bank it left only a 21 year old girl teller whom we had to put in as president.

advised

I ^ told them to open the branch 25 May, something Tom Barber said at Charlottesville came to my mind -

As we talked some advice from Tom Barber, Charlottesville instructor came to my mind. "Everyone will tell you to close the banks. Don't worry about that. Banks are like oysters, they close on the slightest provocation. The trick is to get them open again" [circled]Thereupon[circled] ^ I ordered the bankers to reopen 25 May, allowing withdrawals of only 500 marks per family till we see how things go. We dismissed another Nazi today: This time it is the police We had to fire the police chief today, another Nazi. We Chief of the city of Hersbruck.

The Landrat told me that the town of Happurg is in a furore because it has two burgermeisters, one named by him, the other a Belgian whom the commander of the U.S. troops stationed at Hapsburg, had decided should be burgermeister.

I went out to Happurg, succeeded in rounding up both German + Belgian claimants together with the U.S.

The latter

battalion commander. who proved to be a pleasant friendly young Lieutenant Colonel who told me the Belgian had taken over because the other old joker

is

was too dumb to run the town."

Also young, but

The Belgian was ^ a slippery looking young city narrow eyed, slick haired, fast talking and slippery. "Burgermeisters," I told him are, "are named by Military government on recommendation from the Landrat. We shall be glad to have your advice. You are to give no orders."

Then I turned on the German.

"Why haven't you posted your proclamations?" I demanded. first

He looked helplessly ^ at the Belgian, then at me.

"He took them away from me," he protested, in a frightened whisper.

"See they are up within an hour," I ordered.

"Why were the schools opened, contrary to orders of Military Government?" I continued.

No answer, but another pleading look toward the Belgian.

"I decided they ought to be open," the latter spat out Eventually.

"Close everything but kindergartens, as you were told to do." I ordered the German, hopped into the jeep and drove to Forrenbach and Alfold. Everywhere along the valley I found the schools had been opened on orders from the Belgian.

Returning to Happurg I walked into the Burgermeister's office. The German was not to be seen, but the Belgian was sitting at the Burgermeister's desk giving orders.

"Get out of here and stay out." I roared.

If I catch you here again you'll be thrown out the Kreis." there

Some reason ^ must be for this sharp eyed city slicker to hary around a hick town in Bavaria, now that he's free to return home.

18 May I ordered the Landrat to replace the burgermeister of Happurg with a man with guts and gumption,

further

also to report to me if he had any ^ trouble with the Belgian. Then a U.S. Captain came in to ask that the Belgian not be deported. "He is a lieutenant in the Belgian Army." said the captain, "a man of considerable education. Although a prisoner of war he was forced to work on the ^ Dogger Project, the underground factory where airplanes were to be built. Every morning he was drawn up the steep slope with lashes. Now he proposes to stay here and get his revenge. And he is the only man who knows the secret details of the Dogger Project.

so-called

"We have a stupendous job to get out the huge dynamos, magnetos, and out of the tunnels [circled]Then we have to[circled]
other expensive machinery. ^ inventory
all the equipment. When that is done
we are going to blow the whole hill up so the krauts can never use those 7 miles of tunnels again. And we need the Belgian."

"O.K.," I answered, "but see that he gives no more orders to German civilians."

This afternoon all 39 burgermeisters reported to M. G. on the terrace of our proved

headquarters – and they were a motley looking fat

crew of ^ German farmers. Their reports show a 50% increase in population due to refugees from numbed out cities — chiefly Nuremburg, in addition to several thousand Displaced Persons. We told them the daily ration for German civilians is to be 1050 calories per day. They nodded yavoll. "Yes. That's all they get," the Landrat replied gravely.

Looking at these fellows + remembering in these parts

all the sturdy children we have seen, we know feel reasonably sure they are eating a lot more than the starvation diet of 1050 calories, but you can't put an M.P. on every farm.

We warned the they were responsible to see all weapons are turned in by 20 May – just two days to go.

19 May Today we opened the Labor office, made an inventory of all food on hand in the Kreis (His ample, but no great surplus) sent out for much needed salt, arrested another flock of high ranking Nazis.

Hans Wahbeden showed me ugly scars he received during the years he was a political prisoner in a Nazi concentration camp. He wants a job and can't get the Germans to do anything for him.

I drove out to Happurg again.

On the way I ran into a woebegone caravan of 30 ramshackle wagons and shivering bone shivering horses carrying 300 weary Poles. They left LINZ three weeks ago and are looking for a place to settle. Stonehearted, I hustled them out of the Kreis. Hope they don't slip back in. On returning Capt Cope informed me that Hersbruck is in a stew of fright over a rumor that the Russians are to take over the Kreis.

"I have not gone to any pains to deny," it the cap the rumor," the captain too implied. "It's having a very sound effect." The Heinies are groveling as they never groveled before in their effort to hold us here."

20 May Today we were transferred from Third Army to IIIrd Corps which means more reports. C.I.C. has finished screening public officials. Am glad that is over. The Landrat seems to be stalling on giving a job to Wahbeden the man who was mistreated by the Nazis in a concentration camp.

There is no Black market here but most business is down on a barter basis.

German

Due to influx of ^ refugees, plus the DPs brought in by the Germans this Kreis has had a 50% increase in population since 1938. One small hotel in the center of the city has 50 people sleeping in one of its public rooms many of the homes have 20 to 30 persons in them.

The Heinies have turned in the greatest collection of weapons you ever saw, old sabers, 17th century pistols knives, daggers, and a few shotguns. They say all new weapons were turned U.S.

over to first ^ troops to pass through Hersbruck.

21 May Orders have come through that Hersbruck must feed the 2000 high Nazis in the Internment Camp. When our troops came in they released those interned by the Germans – political prisoners, mostly foreigners. Now we use the same amps for the Nazis.

22 May The Burgermeister of Hersbruck has furnished Lt. Lanning with a complete list of Nazi party members.

The local C.I.C. team tells us that Hersbruck was the fourth Kreis in all Germany to be taken out by the Nazi party; also that there are not more than 30 honest-to-God [?] Nazis in the entire Kreis.

The D.P.s are going hog wild.
Last night they broke into the Finance Office and tried to start burn it up. Another gang smashed their way into a an outlying farm near Thalheim, tried to rape the women, beat up the men and carried off a cartload of loot.

Hersbruck has lost its famous collection of toy soldiers. A U.S. Colonel carted it away today. In this collection of 26,000 lead soldiers were reproduced with exact colors the uniforms of every branch of every army in Europe. To show relative strengths each soldier represented a regiment. In addition famous battles of World War I (German victories) were reproduced with barbed wire, trendure, shill holes and thousands of toy soldiers. The former burgermeister of Hersbruck spent a fortune of the city' funds on this collection. Even out in this farming district the chief interest of the Germans was in armies and war.

A new order permits the local brewery to make beer again – for the use of U.S. troops only.

Incidentally we have discovered a cache of several thousand bottles of wine in a cave

30[circled]

we are taking now for ourselves. The rest we are turning over to the occupational troops.

With Major Peake, a lawyer, at my elbow, I acted as judge today for the first time in my life, convicting a German of stealing a 5 gallon can of U.S. gasoline. I sentenced him to one years imprisonment and to pay a fine of 5000 R.M.

23 May A sad frightened looking [circled] with a baby[circled] Polish couple^ talked with Capt. Cope today.

"Is it true we are free?" the wife asked.

"What do you mean, free?"

"Need we no longer slave for the Germans?"

Little by little their story came out. The Nazis had dragged them here from Poland, then separated the husband and wife right after the baby was born. The wife slaved in the fields. She scrubbed the floors and cleaned the barns.

She fell

Altho^ ill she scarcely received Less than ^ a subsistence diet. The baby scarcely recognizes his mother because she was allowed to see him only on Sundays.

When the U.S. troops marched On 18A port

through ^ the husband ran

German

away from his ^ master. Since then he has been hunting his wife and child. Last night he found them. This morning he spirited them away. When he brought them here the wife was still trembling with fear of what would happen to her and the child when the German farmer caught them. Here at our headquarters it took an hours explaining on the part of Captain Cope, the interpreter and her husband to make the poor woman realize that Germany had lost the war and her Garman master no longer had power to mistreat her. Through it all the baby squalled.

Capt. Cope saw that the baby had milk, the mother and father food and coffee.

Then he After sending the now happy family off the to the D.P. camp at Hartenstein he bustled into my office grinning from ear [circled]had caused[circled] to ear to tell me what ^ all the howling. had been

The Russian captain
Stazenhov is bombarding Col.
Normand and me for more of everything – food, clothing, gasoline, and above all an automobile. Today
we received a directive to return captured
all ^ Russian officers. I thought that solved everything. When I told Capt. Stazenhov he heaved a deep sigh. "How I wish I could go back to Russia. But I could never leave my compatriots
to the mercy of those dastardly Germans."

As the interpreter translated the captain watched the expression in my eyes. Apparently he noted a lack of sympathy for the plight of his poor Russians. He took a new tack.

"I am the only one the Russians will obey. If I leave – you shall see. No discipline – robberies, lootings, murder, maybe. No, I must stay with my people to the last." I told him he could stay for awhile longer.

34[circled]

My chauffer has located a snappy Mercedes – Benz convertible sedan which just suits me.

24 May The mayor burgermeister of Hersbruck city has put all the youths 14-18 to work cleaning up debris in the bombed areas of the city. He is trying to keep them busy in the day and dog tired at night so they will not form gangs under their former Hitler youth leaders.

After we had finished our daily conference this morning

the Landrat looked at me rather wistfully. "What am I to do now for transportation?"

"What do you mean?"

"Now that you have taken [circled] for your personal use[circled] my car^ how am I to get around to see the burgermeisters."

I promised him another car, suppressing a smile at my chauffeurs method of finding me a better vehicle.

Wahmedler, the former inmate of the concentration camps, now demands that the city of Hersbruck build him a house. He has had the plans all drawn.

25 May

The banks opened today.
As the bankers predicted, deposits were greater than withdrawals.

not even the banks the are truly week

No one^ seems to realize that ^ bank assets. relied on 90%~ German Government bonds, and I am keeping mum.

U.S. Army trucks are dropping sudetenlanders all over this part of Bavaria. The G.I. drivers are ordered told to find a likely spot, dump back to their post

their passengers, and hightail home before anyone can question them. Capt Cope + I jeeped to see an M.G.O in the territory east opens. "Sure, I'm doing it," he admitted

"So is everyone else. Otherwise we'd be overwhelmed."

Returning Capt Cope and I Instructed our border guards to act as a one way valve letting people out of the kreis but not letting them in. I wonder how much U.S. gasoline I being wasted carting these despised Sudetenlanders from one spot to another.

[circled]37[circled]

26 May An "order" came to me today not to interfere with men working for the Dogger Plant. It was signed by the Belgian as "Attorney for U.S. garrison troops." I saw red, but a Major General and a Brigadier General inspected the underground factory today, so I kept quiet. The Belgian pointing out our acted as their guide showing the flight of steps up which we had been flagged, the crematory where he had almost been burned to death ec.

Afterward the corps Colonel who had organized the inspection asked me not to interfere with the work of so valuable a man "Very well, sir" I replied "if you will stop him from giving orders as Military Governor."

The Major General, seeing how hot

I was, tactfully walked away.

[circled]Voma to[circled] Our party went on to ^ inspect the remains of what was to have been the largest artillery piece ever constructed, with a calibre of (about 3 feet) ^ 20 mm. calibre. The generals said it would have only lasted for about 100 rounds, but that would have been enough to wipe London completely off the ma if fired from a channel port. Fortunately our troops got possession of the channel ports before the gun could be used. As the Germans retreated it was hidden here in the hills of Bavaria.

27 May

We had our first fraternization case today. A German speaking G.I. walked into the gymnasium where some 100 German refugee women have been billeted "Line up, all of you." he ordered. "I'm picking the most beautiful," which he did. The record does not state whether or not the chosen lady appreciated the honor.

28 May. U.S. Troops keep pouring into the Kreis.

Today we arrested a German Russian D.P. who stabbed a Pole. He claimed self defense. Says Russian was in act of robbing his bicycle.

[circled]40[circled]

We are getting telephone service started within Hersbruck City for officials and a few essential civilians such as doctors.

All the local educators seem to have been seep dyed Nazis. We have possible schoolsupt.

finally located a man who He was born here but became a teacher in Nuremburg, but never joined the party as a Superintendent of Schools. He looks like a good man.

He

Lt. Lanning arrested a of the Air Corps

German General Major ^ today. Following some rule of war I, as senior

the prisoner

military officer, guarded him till he could be evacuated. Altho he speak excellent English he was quiet and reserved. abo I was impressed because he is the first [circled]with whom[circled] German ^ I have had contact. Who never grovels, nor assumes an air of arrogance.

28 May Lt. Lanning issued night sticks to the local German police who need something to help them preserve order. Most of them are cowed looking little civilians who act as though they are afraid of their own shadows.

31 May This is Corpus Christi day. I took a chance and told the Catholic priest he could hold a procession.

We tried 14 persons today. Mostly nice refined looking women who had called across the barbed wire fence to husbands + fathers in the Internment Camps. They all wept when I handed out stiff sentences. I felt like a heel remembering how I had sympathized with French women who had been jailed by heartless brutal Boche judges for the same offence.

[circled]42[circled]

This is a queer racket [circled]Military Government.[circled] Time and again you find yourself forced to do just what you have condemned in others. At Charlottesville Tom Barber told us how he on entering Germany after the other war he locked up the Burgermeister and ten leaching citizens, stating that one shot were fired or

he would kill them all if ^ our U.S. soldier were injured.

"I break into a sweat even now" he told us, "when I think that I would have had to murder all those innocent old men if some fool had taken a pot shot at us."

Suppose a gang of werwolves ^ blow[s] up a bridge here. If we can't find the perpetrators, we'll take "sanctions" against the whole city. That will probably start more trouble. It can easily end in our burning up a town. Then history will shout "LidicE" at the barbarous Americans.

Pontius

Somewhere I once read that ^ Pilate,

Roman

as the properly trained ^ Military Governor of Palectine, had no choice but to permit the Jews to execute man they claimed was inciting to riot.

Hitlerstrasse, main street of Hersbruck is now once again Pragestrasse, its name since the Middle Ages when Hersbruck was a main stop on the road from Bavaria to Prague.

big impressive German

A large ^ man with a bulldog head and a bushy moustache came to my office today, accompanied by a delicately beautiful blonde woman, half his age. After he had bowed

[circled]44[circled]

ceremoniously from the waist, she announced in broken English that she was his wife who had come along as interpreter. I motioned to them to sit. He sat impassive and silent, while she explained that he + she had large interests in Furth, and needed a pass. Once, faltered when she hesitated over a word, her husband supplied it sotto voce, which convinced me she was being used as bait on the excellent theory that a pretty woman making a request gets results. It worked. I gave them their passes.

Today I made the social blunder of going to the barber shop for a haircut. My arrival threw everything into confusion.

"Shall I drive everyone out of the attend to the desires shop while I cut the hair of Herr Commandant?" asked the perplexed barber.

[circled]45[circled]

I told him to let them stay,
but all other activity in the shop
ceased while the other barbers waited on the head barber as he majestically cut my hair. The other patrons watched enthralled speaking only in whispers as they to witnessed the intimate operation
on the head of the Military Governor.
No one spoke except in awed whisper.
Henceforth I shall have the barber called to headquarters, according to the centuries old custom of rulers.

Occupational troops have taken over the gymnasium, the towns leading hostelry and several smaller gasthauses.

We arrested a burgermeister, an old deaf man, who told farmers they could keep their weapons to protect their fields from wild game.

Pfc Herbert Schaeffer joined our Detachment today. Intelligent and speaking German he should be an asset

1 June The Landrat tells me 80,000 RM are supposed to have been locked in the safe of his office by the former Nazi cashier. Latter is interned but swear he hasn't the key. If the safe is opened with an electric torch the bills will burn. What shall he do?

Having no answer ready I told him that was his problem + went quickly on to something else.

[circled]47[circled]

Capt Cope left us today. He has been aiding since long before he came to the Detachment. Now he has been hospitalized for return to the U.S. I shall miss his cheerful grin. Meanwhile am showing Have written higher headquarters asking for a replacement. Meanwhile I am the following:

Civilian Administration Officer
Trade and Industry Officer
Food and Agriculture Officer
Summary Court Officer
Property Control Officer
Education and Religion Officer.
Arts and Monuments Officer Detachment Historian.
Transportation Officer
Communications Officer
Fiscal and Public Finance Officer and I don't know what other functional officers according to the charts.

Lt. Lanning is working seven day

[circled]50[circled]

mule orders.

Lt Lanning tells me that when he was with the Military Police in Paris he arrested two Russian soldiers for being drunk and disorderly, sending them back to their commander for company punishment, probably a few days of kitchen police or guard house. The next day he received word from the Russian officer that the men had been disposed of.

"What does that mean?" he demanded

"Shot." replied the Russian.

[Back]

14

2

2800

1000

4000

4000

1729

1729

4 June

We are rid of all of our Russians but we are getting a few truckloads of Sudetenlanders and Silesians every day. Today I talked with a woman, one of a group of 95 Silesian – men women and children travelling with all their few meagre possessions in a horse and hand drawn caravan that has spent ten days passing leisurely through our Kreis.

Dorothy Trinks

"Where are you going?" I asked.

"We don't know."

"What do you eat?

A shrug of the shoulders.

"But what are your plans?" I was getting impatient.

[End Folder 1]

[circled]52[circled]

"We have none," she answered dully, "except to keep going somehow, anywhere until we can go back once more to our houses in Silesia."

[As she spoke of home her face lighted up for a moment.

I started to say this might be a matter of years, or never, but thought, what's the use? They'll be out of our kreis in a day or two and I can forget them.

[Note written 3 Sept 45- But I never have. Sometimes when I'm half asleep I see them dilapidated caravan movin creeping on and on.

I see them traveling on and on, begging a little, robbing a little, growing every week a little more haggard, waiting that day, maybe years hence, when the Russians let them go "home" to Silesia.

5 June The Catholic priest came to me today with a problem.

the

It seems that some prince of Bavaria is in our internment camp. After confession today
the prince handed the priest
two envelopes, one addressed to arch

the Bishop, the other to Robert Murphy of the U.S. State Department. What should he, the priest, do with them?

"Go right back quick and hand those letters to the Commander of the Internment Camp. Do it pronto before I have to arrest you."

A few minutes later the Colonel in charge of the camp phones me "That priest must be arrested at once," he stormed. I'll never let him in here again."

[circled]54[circled]

I told him the priest impressed me as harmless and he agreed not to arrest him. but the Colonel must have given the priest a scare.

When the latter returned to my office his face was white. "I'll never go near that place again," he protested.

5 June The

8 June 120 Sudetenlanders dumped in kries. Food is holding out but Landrat prophesies shortages in [circled]8B[circled] [circled]55[circled] August before potatoes come in. I visited Hohenstein Castle where the a pretty blue eyed 50 year old woman [circled] Landrat reported 600 tons of coal urgently needed today supply now on hand is 167 tons which will keep hospitals, [?] dairies butcher shops open about 4 weeks _____.[circled] Order We received orders freezing all lumber in Bavaria for Army purposes. This will postpone all reconstruction of bank damaged houses buildings

Meeting of Camist plant owners.

Left the church, 8 or 9 years ago + he followed. Now he believes he may rejoin.
These men showed less interest in sports than younger generations and what they have is for individual sport – skiing, hiking, swimming.
Thre out of the 7 interviewed are hoping glider clubs will be reorganized. I gave them little hope.

None seemed broken up by Germany's defeat. They are coninuing their lives, one as a profess water color artist, another as a house painter, studing art on the side, a third as brewer's helper, but anxious to continue his courses in mechanics, a fourth as a hospital assistant as well as waiting to attend for the opening of the University at Erlangen to continue his medical studies, ec.

Not one evinced the slightest much interest in politics. All agree men their age that young people want to live their lives now are interested in own futures now + will not give up time for politics. They say they were too young too know anything of pre Nazi politics. During the 2 or 3 years they have been in the army political ^ has been forbidden. What do you think of U.S. occupational troops?

[?]

Several answered – good comrade when sober not drunk. One who had been attacked by drinking a ^ US soldier wanted to know if ok for him to take such a man to police station for identification.

[circled]9[circled]

argue kept. climbed up to 18 June- I finally visited climbed up to Hohenstein Castle today. After a trip to the Ruined tower of Velden + the DP camp at Hartenstein. at the foot of the castle proper clinging to the Hohenstein castle is a comparatively small but of masonry perched on the top of a huge rock at one of the highest points in Franconia. In Caesars time the Germanic tribes used as one of their mountain top signal points building fires by which they could send warning messages for hundreds of miles. It has been a fortress ever since. The present castle was started in the year 900 according to the sweet faced blue eyed woman who showed us about. It is hard to tell just where rock ends + castle begins. She told us it was from here that Frederich Barbarossa rode off to the crusades with Richard the Lion Hearted and it At Schloss castle was from ^ Hohenstein that Young mother before his ^ trip to Italy.

Conradin last of the Hohenstaufen emperors bade farewell to his Queen fatal

In the Queen's Room, (about the only room left in the castle) is an old engraving of the beheading of Conradin in Naples. Our dear lady showed us the frie a sort of balcony of reprieve. Anyone reading that spot was in [?] from attach or improvement for 24 hours. We climbed the rubily stair of the old tower + looked out over miles of hills + valleys. Nuremburg + the castle Festrung Fortress of Rottenburg could be seen to the West. To the East beyond the valley of the Pezinty could be seen the mountain chain that separates Bavaria from Czecho Slovachia. Our guide peered down at the bell tower of the castle. Nearby pressed closely around the walls of the castle for protection were [?] [?] the roofs of the village of Hohenlum

"What shall I do about the turkey bell?" she asked gravely.

"About what?"

"Oh I forgot you would not understand. Years and years ago when the Turks were on the borders of Bavaria defeated at Vienna the people of Bavaria they were so glad not to have fallen prey to Christians. Since then the a Turkey bell is rung every day at 11 oclock in the morning.

11 oclock in the morning. Most of the farmer don't even know why it is called the Turkey bell."

"But why do you ask about ringing it?" a platoon

"Well during the war this

Army

of going German ^ give who operated a radio here in the castle. Goering was here last summer to visit them.

They took care of ringing the Turkey Bell, but when the Americans approached they ran away. Now no one rings it
+ the farmers complain.

"Why"

"Why, because their wives don't know when to leave the fields to go in + get dinner ready for the of course."

"Of course. Well you go ahead + ring the Turkey Bell. It's important that the farmers eat on time."

Just below the castle walls
On the way down our guide pointed out a place where the rock had been worn away by what was obviously water action. That according to the peasants marks the Bible

high point of the Great Flood in Germany Bavaria. All the world was covered, they think except After [?] lesserknown [arrow to below] [circled]10[circled]

Mt Ararat + Hohenstein

9+10 11 June Schwallen Reis + I

At cout wed [arrow to above] head the 16 yr old boy who shot + killed his 12 yr

old brother [?] - one witness was 6 yr old

12 June We are now using a weekly

Hersbruck Kreis is

bulletin. 128 more Sudentenlanders

Russ 100,000. 500,000-

have been dumped on us. Last Night

Ive got a tip that

I had odd guests. My old friend

Captain Stazenhov + his crony

here today

Lt. Novak were arrested ^ as

Germans posing as Russian officers. When I We found

They had shipped away from the Russian Camp + were living

their usual pleasant life

of wine women + song – in Nuremburg, except they came out to Hersbruck from time to time in the late evening. Novak

a city

has just told me that he has one

wife in Nuremburg and a country

wife out at Happurg.

64 17 -

Both Stazenhov + Novak claim

17 -

12

210

[In top margins]

brother who did not mean how what [?]

was hurt his brother

the rights of officers so we are keeping them overnight in Capt Copes room with a guard at the door. Much as I enjoy their company I am closing the shutters of my balcony so they can't step into my room during the night. (Lt. Lanning Russians at Versailles)

An old German resident of Hersbruck despondent one loss of war having himself today.

14- Schwallen(Tuesday)

15 June We started courier service today with to get outlying message to the ^ Burgermeisters. The Landrat sends a message out to nearest burgermeisters. They relay it to next farther out, +c. It takes two days for the round trip to + from farthest burgermeister 30 miles away. When message ready burgermeister if it is for the

[In margins; circled]Our Det has been transferred from III corp to XVI corp + [?] with 40FFA corp of where I am Nov
55[circled]

population he gives it to the bell ringer who appears at certain hours in this special uniform – very dilapidated as [?] rings his oversize handbell I must have + informs the message help. Lt Lanning +c 18 June. Reconstruction work cleaning up the debris of the main part of started on ^ Velden ^ which was almost completely wiped out when the U.S. Troops came through Burgermeister of Hersbruck Roiger tells me that the former Nazi burgermeister whom we ousted according to our orders saved Hersbruck from the fate of almost every other German city large to small as the US Troops approached the S.S. Colonel, who had already retreated several miles beyond Eastward ordered the Burgermeister to resist a few Gestapo leaving enough S.S. troops in the nearby - the thought vicinity to enforce his order.

Instead the burgermeister sent Freidrick Schaefer, a German who Ruttsburg

lived in the hills for some years
to tell the Americans the city would not resist. The tanks US tanks rolled into the city —
not a shot was fired — but one of the SS main agents burned down the City Hall Rathaus(City Hall)
as a stupid revenge for the city's surrender.

13 June - Retook stuff from

15 June Captain Herbert Glaser

Today

arrived ^ as my deputy. He is a grand person. 38 years old, has had a lot more militan government experience than I having been, M.G.I. of a team during the advancement through severance

[?] bridge

in Alsace-Lorraine + then fought on from town to town as the troops advanced. The last place he governed was in the Austrian Alps a beautiful spot

[In margins]

13 June – The C.I.C. is screening teachers

burgermeisters + others in the small village of the kries. told look to interview some of the burgermeisters [?] waiting for the car outside it their office in room. I noticed a staunch Bavarian standing alone in in the [?] house sensing what [?] he says, but in the region near where the French have already taken over and it would probably fall to the

Last week Capt Glaser in French soon. Meanwhile some against his advice

of the local people ^ drove their cows to their usual summer pastures up on the mountain. The pasture was in French controlled territory. The French dart the last cow struggle across the line + then mobbed the lot, herded them in boxcars +

according to all those sent them off to France. "They are stripping their territory right to the bone + then scraping the bone." Capt Glaser tells me.

It is a great relief to have someone on whom I can dump my burdens + I am sure dumping them. I am become making Capt Glaser my Deputy M.G.O. executive officer – Worried about gasoline

[?] as the head of the MotorPool
I fired ^ Shaefer the ex Pittsburg
union agent from the as head of gasoline
distribution today, even tho he came up again
to tell me how he surrendered the city to the U.S. sojers. That's why I got everything." he muttered. "but I'll find out who [?] is + I'll get [?]." I really have nothing on thanks but [in margins] was just too smart not to be making a [?] of that gasoline gain. Gasoline is worth more [?]

June 15 June 10 - 11 - 12. Kappler the able county engineer tells me that friends of the Belgian Schwallen can get anything like out of the Dogger plant (the underground mine) – trols, cement, motors, +c. while Schwallen requests to give him a thing even on written orders from M.G. He shows me another order to me from from Schwallen signed by Schwallen, as attorney for the U.S. Garrison Troops. This time I saw red. I phoned Col Craig C.O. of the occupational troops. "If Schwallen isn't out of this ľII Kreis by Tuesday I shall arrest him. I have enough on him to railroad him for 5 years."

Col Craig calmed me down in his soft Missouri drawl. "Don't worry I'll see that Schwallen is out of the Kreis before Tuesday. In fact I already told them and there at Happurg to get rid of him. I thought hed gone. I don't like his looks myself."

16 June Robert J. Hurt reported-

18 June Major Peake dropped in. "Has Shcwallen been shipped back to Belgium yet?" I

"No." replied Maj. Peake. "And he isn't going to be."

"Then I'm sending out my Lnt now to arrest him."

"You won't find him"

"What do you mean?"

"Well," and Maj. Peake's face broke into a mischievous grin. "What happened is this, yesterday your friend

[?] by C.I.C.

Schwallen was arrested as a former member of the Gestapo." +--

"But I had C.I.C. screen him twice + they said he was O.K. "[?] Belgian [?]

"Well they finally got him.
It seems in telling of various concentration camps he had been he slipped up + mentioned
one which Lt Weinature of C.I.C.
knew was a camp where Gestapo sent their own members who had committed crimes.

Schwallen finally admitted he was a member of the Belgian Gestapo claiming all the time because it was all a blind that he was secretly working for the Belgian underground movement. C.I.C. checked on that story. The head of the Belgian underground sent word back to C.I.C. that Schwallen had no connection was in fact a Gestapo."

"So your rival Military Governor

[circled]12[circled]

has gone off to the internment camps + you're free at last to govern Hersbruck Kreis as you like."

19. June Lt Robert J. Hunt arrived today. He looks bright + energetic. He fought the war from Africa through Sicily – [?] + all the way through Germany in the American Corps – has presidential citation, [?] + a string of Hershey bars on his sleeve. I can see that he, like Lt. Lanning, has a deeper hatred for the Germans than either Capt. Glaser or I.

20 June Off to Leipzig to try to session coal to keep hospital, bakeries + dairies open. I should because is rumored Russians will take over Leipzig have gone a week ago, but simply make Glaser have could not have the hands without or the hundred pressing questions are how that all need immediate answers.

The Autobahn up past Bayreuth is through beautiful pine mountains. The Nazis did a real job in building these magnificent autobahns throughout Germany – but built them of course they did it to move their motorized armies quickly in all directions. As we neared Leipzig the Autobahn was jammed with the usual now almost too usual caravans of ox cars, old wagons, hand pulled carts carry old furniture + personal belongings with the usual bedraggled army of oldmen + women, mothers, children of all ages - walking, crawling, riding all days of boxes or pulling tiny carts.

One fine looking old coach has 2 old, old ladies on the vos dorm. [?] on all the [?]. How many millions of these people are trudging about through Europe? This time they are fleeing the Russians.

At Leipzig I was treated with great diference at the head Office of the Brown Coal Syndicate Our request are quickly made to send 12 carloads to Hersbruck here specially marked. "They'll start in 3 days." Jean promised. "Your people had better get on them at I'll have the Landrat send someone to follow them thru Nuremburg." I answered "and ride them to Hersbruck to see they don't get Hijacked."

"When do you deport the Russians?
I asked at MG. Leipzig "No one knows. Maybe 3 weeks – nothing definite yet" Leipzig had the usual bomb damage - R.R. station a wreck – most of buildings in center of town just shells, but nothing like the utter destruction of Nuremburg + Wurzburg.

I noticed a good many soldiers walking or talking to German girls + asked the Belgian guard on duty at Offiers were about it.

"The fraternization ban is completely off here." he told me. "Officer soldier everyone has a girl.
I was mad though the other night.
I started to walk into a house which has girls. An M.P. officer came along. "That is off limits-Get away from there" —"

"Yes sir" and I waked up the street but I kept looking back.

Sure enough he walks up the street but I kept looking back. That was at 930 in the evening. H I hung around till 11 o'clock + he hadn't come out yet.

Off limits my eye – Off
limit for everyone but him.

22 June

5 June

13 June At lunch today Burgenwash phoned. "U.S. soldiers are digging up yard of Georg Reiss on hill Michelberg near Military Governt Headquarters. They claim they are looking for wine."

Major Peake was having lunch with us. He + Lt

lunch with us. He + Lt Lanning rushed over to catch the offending soldiers. Pretty soon they sent word back for me to come up to the Reiss house.
When I arrived I found a big hole dug in one of the vegetable beds under the seemingly innocent peas + tomatoes was a huge wooden case containing hundreds of not one wine, but cans + cans of meat, candy meat marked "Wehrmacht" and other food

Soldiers were digging all over the grounds enough for an army. ^ From Reiss was walking up + down the

was walking up + down the walk covering our hands.
Gutbrod was translating Lt Lanning barked questions + the sternness of the questions lost nothing as repeated them in German.

Gutbrod marshaled.

"Let me show you, major" Lt Lanning's face wa excited. "We found another cache here" – In another part of the silver box

lawn was another box – fur jackets, silverware more food, wine."
Reiss is the owner of big meat packing plants at Ansbach + Nurm burg. He is said to have been a close friend of Julius Streicher, the Jew baiter Gauleiter of Nuremburg. He is due back tonight we have set a trap for him.

Lt. Lanning arrested everyone about the place – all admitted having helped bury the stuff and has put a guard on the house.
6 -arrest of [?]
8 15 -arrest of Reiss headquarters + dog legal of our

10 18 June – Capt Jarvis ^ of our [?] town at Ansback came today at Lt Lannings request to prepare the case against Reiss hoarding Whermacht – hence by laws of war was allied - food supplies. I took him up Michelsburg to show him the Reiss home. We walked in the living room 5 M.S. soldiers were with feet on a handsome sitting around a table laden with glasses + empty bottles. They rose instantly to their feet, lurching against the furniture. After one look I took names + serial numbers from [?]

to foreword to Maj Peake. their Capt. Jarvis + I inspected the house. Reiss claimed to have left 100,000 RM in It had been completely ransacked clothes, blankets, bric a brac were strewn over the floors of every room. Every cupboard, dresser and wardrobe had been emptied. The U.S. g soldiers "guards" had apparently combed everything Even v the keys to the safe, which Frau Russ claimed to have left on her bed, were missing.

"These men will be punished." the major commanding promised when I told him described the scene to him

isnt

But the fault ^ really lies higher up. theirs. They've been fighting for months. Suddenly the war ends in a great

in the [?] hole

victory + they're dumped here. ^ No provision for entertainment. No leaves. Stern commands not to fraternize. No relaxation except drink. They've been accustomed or want to taking whatever they need ^ wherever they can find it. Scrounging is a part of war. You can't expect them t change overnight into sweet law abiding citizens.

Ruttenberg of E8B3

22 June – With co Lt Rollinsbrun from DUE.B3 doing a bang up job as Ansback ^ as presiding judge (I felt I had been too close to the case + also needed legal help) Georg Reiss was committed and sentenced to hard labor

one year. ^ [?] fine of 10,000 RM
(maximum sentence for Summary Court)
His wife was given 180 days + 100000 RM fine - chiefly for giving false information and misrepresentation
M.G. (She had told Lanning several times there was no more hidden after discovers of first cache. Later several more were found) much to my surprise Reiss had no longer but read an excellently
arranged defense to the court w/ Lt Ruttenberg questioning him got the big burley ex butcher all [?]

We could hardly restrain the crowded courtroom from cheering the verdict. These people who get only - grains meat per week would have liked to tear the fat packer limb from limb.

26 June 200 Polish refugees were dumped on us without warning today. We put them in Hartenstein camp. We have the Germans starting work on an [?] water line from springs near Happurg. and begin to rejoin the [?]

27 June — "When will the engine come to pull the Saarlanders"

come to pull the Saarlanders train away?" a plaintive
to draw our train back to the Saar?" a plaintive little man asked Capt Glaser
today.

"What trainline? What train? Capt Glaser demanded.

"For us Saarlanders" the man replied

We are 200 Saarlanders at windy

Henfenfeld. "Four days ago a man

Railroad.

comes from Nurmburg ^ He tells us trains

in at station at Henfenfeld to take us home. Another is at Hartmannshof

they say. We pack our belongings.

We come from all over Kreis-

Engelthal. Offenbach, [?] we him farmers trucks. We find train at Henfenfeld. We climb aboard

We stay four days. Sometime

it rains. No engine. Man says

we must get engine from Military Government."

Captain Glaser rushed to me "Did you make any more arrangements major?"

"Never heard of the matter.

We phoned the occupational force.

"Never heard of it."

(Railroad Transport Officer)

We phoned the R.T.O. ^ at Nurmburg

"Never heard of it."

Capt Glaser rushed over to Henfenfeld. They're all there all right 300 of them - bag aboard this train + baggage. ^ Someone must have spotted the cars and they see there's another group on a similar train at Harbuoinhof. They claim a Capt Paul at Furth knows all about it" Capt Glas ths at We tried Furth on the phone No luck. Tomorrow will try + order Capt Paul 28 June. Capt Glaser + I combed the railroad transport Grand Division of Furth No Captain Paul. No one knew anything about a movement of Saarlanders to Fausch Heresbruck

"It's the damn German RR." officials" a major told us. "We turned the railroads over to em now they think theyre hot stuff June 25 - ^ but no one can send a train back to the Saa without approval from there. You have to make a formal request with names location T" We sighed + told him we had made such a request but had received weeks ago ^- no answer. "Tell them to go back where They came from. Th "If I can find out anything I'll let you know. That's all anyone can do." We [?] to Her 29 June. Lt. Kirby reported He has [?] or will talk over refugees, DPs, Rubin Welfanet help Lt. Lanning on Public Safety work.

On account of request among

1 July "Landrat has put v youths

them

15-18 to work cutting wood for internment camps.

Orders from General Patton to put out of office everyone who was ever a member of the party – I stall.

4 July Road blocks have been Established on N. 14, the main road between Nuremburg + Prague which passes thru Hersbruck, to enforce third Army regulations. Amongst these are that no wagons or bicycles are allowed on M.S.R.s(main supply routes) such as N14. I wonder what sort of a mess this is going to make because has mountains + valleys running N. + S. into the Pegnitz. There are absolutely no for almost every physical impossibility to bring a farm.

side roads. It would be a

[circled]16a[circled]

29 June

Mr. Brendel the accused states Mrs. Popp likes always to slam doors. I am vexed by this slamming when she did so again this morning I said to her Shut the door a little more softly She replied You like to play the role of Landlord, you drunken swine, you drunken! Then I exclaimed You should rather wash yourself, you dirty swine. You are too idle to wash yourself! Then for nearly half an hour Mrs. Popp was railing in her lodgin. At least I went downstairs + said I should beat her if she would not stop. When Mr. Habermeier passed she said the devil should take him, but he does not take him, this devil! Then when I was leaving my lodgin Mrs Popp stood before me. I slapped her face. Then Mrs Popp sliped me + tried to pull me downstairs. When she did not succeed she pulled me by my thic coat. The buttons of the coat were torn off + Mrs. Popp backwards fell down the stairs. I followed in order to fetch my cap which was still in the hands of Mrs. Popp. When I tried to fetch it, Mrs. Popp seized my ear + scratched my face so that I was bleeding then I returned to my lodgings.

Two members of the Clergy – local one a Catholic priest a Lutheran priest have been rated as "mandatory removals" be special because of Names joined the party in 1935 Branch, ^ but I shall do nothing more than make a report. I have seen a great deal of him + am one of the
sure he is the most innocuous
persons in Hersbruck.

in the Kreis
to bring crops to Hersbruck city of
[?]

order is enforced.

5 July Landrat is enthusiastic about the proposed newspaper for Bavaria. These people have lived on rumors Since Hersbruck was captured by the Americans 16 April late in April. Its no they are jittery + believe all kinds of wild stories.

The Saarlanders are still on the train at Henfenfeld. Still no engine + still no one, German or American, knows who gave the order for the cars to be placed there. Lt. Kirtz has contacted UNRRA and M.G. + R.T.O. + Transportation Corps officers. All say the return of Saarlanders + others must await definite orders from above when the devastated areas are ready to take them back. But I learned today that several trains did actually carry Saarlanders back from regions near Hersbruck – a sort of Black Market in transport – I guess.

Inspected the Road Blocks on N14. Much to my relief I found
The G.I.s on duty are sensibly have more sense to be [?] the Army educating Major Bell of Adano. They just let + bicycles
the wagons ^ go past without seeing them. General Patton will +developing will be happen

never know the difference ^ I hurried away so as not to spoil a well handled situation.

More troops are moving in and out of Hersbruck Kreis. Command changes from groups one Field Artillery group to another so fast that I am having a hard time knowing who commands the occupational troops in the area.

[circled]18[circled]

is dange

10 July - The coal from Leipzig has no The Coal supply is dangerously low. The carloads never arrived from Leipzig. It seems The Russians took over too soon. We are making a survey of refugees.

Major Schnappes story
Of the countess

[circled] 12[circled] July – Repairs are progressing on damaged buildings. Water supply is low. 1st Lt. Hurst has engineers working on new supply from Happurg.

in city of Hersbruck

13. July – Parents ^ are asking 'why can't schools open? Our young children are getting into mischief because they have nothing to do.' I have had no reply to application for reopening schools so am going to start a work + recreation program for youngsters.

Saarlanders are still on the Train at Henfenfeld, refusing to leave despite all discomforts. They are afraid if they go away the train will pull out without them.

The Lutheran priest reports
Church attendance is up 20 to 25% since the US occupation. "Why?" I asked him.
"The Nazis stationed watched to tell on members who came to church

[?]

14 July – Bus line started to Nuremburg.

Bois de Boulogne . French high heels

U.S. Internment

+ hearing - WAC

Versailles French madame

Eisenhower

named rain – hitcave

15 July Court was crowded.

gypsy

(^ Boy who hit gypsy girl)

another big shift in U.S. troops.

Landrat has received complaints of rugs, lamps, paintings, musical instruments, radios – even one piano stolen in I should say "liberated" by outgoing troops. One woman whined
"I was persecuted by Nazis + so glad to see U.S. troops
[?] my house that I moved out gladly.
"I went by my house every day + looked in little

window at my beautiful ^ radio. American officer always say "You see it is here. the radio, only worry." But now troops have gone + my radio + lots of other things, and Nazis houses have not been disturbed. Why is this?

18 July – Special Branch opened today. Lt Lanning had to takeover most of the 2nd floor of He. He +Kirtz +

taken this quarter in

Hurst have ^moved to a small

villa on top of Michelsberg [circled] to make room[circled],

with half our EM + a staff of civilians. Lt Lanning + staff are "evaluating fragebogen," which means they check through this pretty [?]

Every time we speak to a German

we hand him - fragebogen - questionnaire. The Form of fragebogen changes from Time

the

general

to Time with whim of some higher

it is always

but ^ a fanfold affair of 6 or 8 closely printed questions. The

[?]

when we first came when designers of this instrument we had all officials fill out

fragebogens when we first came

Then were turned over to C.I.C.

[circled]20[circled]

to evaluate "that is decide which whether or not the man was too much of a Nazi to remain in office. at first this was generally those who entered the party before 33 so we kept the officials who claimed to have been forced in later because to hold their jobs. Then came Patton's order to put out everyone who was ever a member of the party. In Hersbruck where 96% of officials were party members, as well as most of the adult males who can read + write. this would have meant turning particular this ^ kreis over to mitivits + stumble bumbs. It would have In my opinion it would have welded together the opposition to our leaders of the government. Many long time ^ Social Democratic Party, were forced into the Nazi party in order to keep a post some part of post as an official. These were middle aged men who knew no other state or city trade than that of _ ^ functionary. It was join the party if you want your family to eat.

We are glad now we did not obey the order because the latest directive gives a complicated formula for renewal. "If he joined party before 1 May 1937 – If he ever was a bloch baden _ _ _ _ _

+c, +c _

If higher authority will stick to this it will give us something definite to work on. We can't keep the prestige we need here if we tell the Landrat one week he must fire a certain employee because of Nazi connections + the next say "We've changed our administration rules to this club. He can come back in again."

What these people must have are firm definite unchanging instructions when they under such orders they respond well, perform miracles of accomplishment.

Germans have to watch for US troops whenever orders

But the American Armys way – No[Yes] – Germans hire out to mustn't sell eggs the Americans. Yes work for US troops but are to be paid

not

you must sell eggs - using form B59 K 4+ collecting cash — No the burgermeister No Germans are not to be paid cash, but are to be furnished Form 4H93 — No Germans are not to be paid by US troops. They are to be paid by burgermeisters, who will only pay them on reclaims like M.G. copies of for 3 x 452 — properly authenticated by commanding officers +c +c _ This sort of shitty [?] to which all U.S. troops are so accustomed the just call it chicken + forget it, but it really baffles the Germans.

Capt Glaser suggested today that maybe that was the punishment being meted out by some in new allied brain trust. A stream of continually changing orders + directives that will eventually bane the entire German nation in such ^ a state of utter confusion + bewilderment that it will never recover.

"And what happens to M.G. officers in the process?" I asked.

"We are just the victims of national policy like the Jap suicide aviators plane pilots. As fast as one of us goes grayly another will replace him."

14 – July – The burgermiester reported that US troops stole 7 motor-cycles from a warehouse last night. The man living next door saw them + took down the number

We found a cache of 2500 cans of meat in Engelthal, another of clothing in a RR car at Pommelsbrunn + a third of 500 pairs of shoes in the attic of the PO garage. All were turned over to the Germans for distribution to the many needy refugees + others in the Kreis.

brought to market

Milk supply has dropped 27% from 1944. The Landrat says it is due partly to lack of farmlands but chiefly to lack of beer. Farmers accustomed to a stein of beer with +between meals to each meal, now drink milk instead.

A big hops gap is expected with little demand in Germany because breweries are closed. It will probably be taken over by other countries. Hersbruck used to be the hops capital of the world, they say.

20 July Youngsters playing on not 100 yards from our Hq.

R.R tracks discovered a cache hidden of arms ^ under the remnants of a bombed freight car.

Tally Ho is to take place tonight with "raids of every house in Germany" according to the directive

21 July – Tally Ho a wash out. In this region the troops entered a few houses were C.I.C. suspicion [?] activists. Nothing was found. Today +c. Dr. Zayer the Catholic priest has agreed to go back to the Internment Camp to hear confession. He wrote me a letter ending "My [?] I will conform to Your commandments. I go back to camp to fulfill me priest – duties. You – sire, will that I do so." 23 July. At the first meeting of the Advisory Committee I understand Hersbruck is part [?] Which I named to help I found have an advance one highly intelligent woman from an evacuee from Nuremberg who speaks English. The rest either sit dumb + uncomprehending or naïve as to make suggestions about how they can Americans can can help their particular business.

I told them that Hersbruck was lucky compared to rest of Europe. People are well clothed + well fed that this was first time in history that a huge army of occupation had been land fed from its home ^ country instead of living off the country. "To do this", I added "American citizens are depriving themselves my mother writes that she has not eaten meat in 3 weeks." When the interpreter put that in German I could see the startled unbelieving look in their faces. "You will have difficult harder times ahead, but you may be sure we have just one desire to see Germany become a peaceful, Democratic country so we can go home.

"What about the Russians?" they added

almost in one breath. "Are they coming to Hersbruck?" Capt Glaser answered [?] a carefully [?] phrased "no." US govern this fear of the Russians. Military Govnt officers near the Russian Zone confirm the story that the Russians say the Russians are driving thousands of Germans out of their territory into ours. [?] places our commanders refuse to let them in and Hundreds of woebegone families sit with their children + household effects between the line waiting for one or the other of the allies to relent.

24 July. Convicted a German of stealing + hiding 4000 cigars, 30,000 cigarets, wine + other Wehrmacht goods. He was one A poor money making minor functionary he evidently lived a pale but exemplary life until the German army fled before the moaning Americans. Then joined with ^ a crowd of neighbors in looting the SS Lager near the East R. R. Station. Whether he took more than the rest or whether it was some old grudge I don't know, but one of the despicable rats who always turn informer to curry favor with the govnt of the moment slid into our Hq the other night + preached on him.

The C.I.C. says these are the worst far worst) people in the world

Able

for telling on each other. They C.I.C. Lt. Wemgarthins thinks it is because German Gestapo learned everything. They feel we shall find it out anyway + they may as well tell. Besides the area is a snarling honeycomb

Most are based drive to

of old fends. Some go back for Nazi informing during Nazi days. Some go back on generations. It seems as tho most every German hates every other German enough so that he only starts learning hatred as a child in these family feuds, so he has a good groundwork on which to build up a super hate of all Czechs, Poles, + other foreigners. The youth welfare group on which I one pin my hope to reverse this process with children 8-14 met today. Herr Glass, an intelligent former teacher from Nuremburg, [?] welfare youth welfare director be the Landrat, has named up all the non Nazi school teachers both new names dried up for this work. They are an old ^ + sorry looking lot. All the young school teachers were members of the Nazi party either by choice or force + hence are not acceptable. As lord at this crowd + think of the tired old men who are priests of the Lutheran church (dominant in this area) I begin to see why the Nazis were able to make such an appeal to youth. They These ritual bound old fogies had no appeal for young minds even back in 1933 and now they are

Twelve years by [?] 12 years older. and the war has left them with not even a glimmer of hope for the future in their lack luster ways.

Czechoslovakia

25 July Today I went to Eggers
to try to get some coal. We have only 12 tons left in kreis + will have to close bakeries + dairies soon if none arrives – also no hot water for hospitals which (Chair in Czech)

can't burn wood. Eggers ^ is an old city. Had more than holy the citizens seem to be German. The Czechs are doing their part to keep up racial hatreds by making all of them, even children, wear armbands white for yellow for those who came after 1938. White for others, many of whom have lived there for generations. los soldiers, sore at Czechs, say latter drove out an 80 year old woman whose family had owned a farm for hundreds of years – also that the Czechs slap + mistreat girls who go out with Americans. "But we fool them" grinned a soldier "When we finish a cigarette we stamp out the

In court today I fined 2 girls 100 marks each for traveling without a pass. They had no [?] but another prisoner (male) paid the pair. "How did you get here?" I asked the girls. They had come from Falkenau Czechoslovakia 100 miles away. "An American officer gave us a ride they giggled "He promised to take us back but didn't show up so now we are [?] it."

built – or we rig up a long 3 inch built with a fine thread where a Czech soldier stoops to pick up his prize we have it away. soldiers

We ^ don't like these Czechs around have in fact I hate to say it, but we find we like the Germans better.

I visited Herbenenberg today to see what people went for Burgeminish Herbenenberg is a tiny farm area up in the mesa land back of Pommelsbrunn. Its people Placluse by a step no dry winding road its see people have^ little of the valley dwellers in the rest of the kreis

The first farmers [?]
"What man who was never in the party would make a good burgermeister?" I asked
"Farmer this than the interpreter
The farmer smiled as the farmer

twisted listened a ^ smile came over his face.

[?] grown man in a non party

the village who is not a member of the party". he replied "Not one."
You must have to wait till the soldiers get home."

Met old Count Von Eschenberg in black coat + he wandering around his 15th century castle like a ghost of the past [circled]Each thing that it was Nazi [?] + singing offered something alive and to the [?] gangsters something vital against a background of hopeless vacinty. [circled]

Characters

Glossary-

Map of Kreis +of City

liken well [?]

I said Ok if you'll stop him from giving from giving orders as Military Governor of the Region Maj Gen. Van Vlech seeing how hot I was walked away The colonel said they would only need him for a week or two + the subject was dropped. We went on up to inspect [?] 120 mm gun at Voma. said to be target even built. Both Generals agreed they could not figure out how it was fired. Gen Kane, [?], said it would probably have fired only about 100 rounds but that would have been enough to wipe London completely off the map. Fortunately we got the Channel ports before the gun could be used + it was hidden down here in the hole of Bavaria.

27 May - We arrested a GI for his

We had our first fraternizing German [?]

case today. A ^ G.I. went into gymnasium where about 100 German refugee women are billeted. He lined them all up. he ordered. "I'm picking the most beautiful" which he did. The record doesn't state whether or not the chosen lady appreciated the honor.

28 May – More + more U.S. troops are pouring into the kries. We arrested a German for stabbing a Russian D.P. He claims self defense. Says Russian was robbing him of his bicycle. We Ordered telephones in Hersbruck City hooked up for officials + a few residential civilians such as doctors named Andreas Straudt, former Nuremberger, never a party member, as supit of schools. All local educational leaders are deep dyed Nazis it seems. We arrested Hubert Hartog, German Nazi [circled]general.[circled] Following protocol of war I guarded him as senior military officer, tell he could be evacuated. He spoke good English + is the first German who neither grovels nor assumes an air of superiority. 28 May Night sticks have been issued to German police 31 May. This Corpus Christi day. Having no We tried [?] today [?]

ord I took a chance + told Catholic Priest

to talk to father of [?] in Internment Camp

he could hold a prosecution.

Hitlerstrasse, main street of Hersbruck is now once again Pragstrasse,
its name since middle ages when Hersebruck was stopping place on [?] 30 May. Named Andreas Straudt, born in Hersbruck but enter

route from Nuremberg to Prague.
Schichedary, Hungarian counsel + an important industrialist of Furth who lives in a large villa here, come to ask for a travel pass bringing with bulldog head + bushy moustache he looks a typical Nazi. He brought along his beaut delicately beautiful blonde wife "as interpreter" claiming he spoke no English.
But Once when she failed for a word he supplied it so I think she was used for bait.

I made the social blunder of going to barber shop for haircut when I should have ordered him her. My arrival threw everything into confusion. "Shall I drive everyone out of shop while I cut the hair of Herr Commandant?" asked the barber. "No let them stay" I answered. But everything stopped in the shop while the other barber waited on the head barber as he cut my hair. The other patrons watched enthralled to witness such an intricate operation as a haircut of a military governor next but no one spoke, except in awed whispers. I shall not repeat the blunder. [circled] The part looted, Hersbruck [?]

the gymnasium two smaller hotels have been taken over by US armies [circled]

Arrested a burgermeister who told

[?]

5 farmers ^ they could keep weapons

31 Pfe. Kergert Schafer joined the Det today. He speaks fairly good German in intelligent + pleasant

a way [?] should be

1 June Reported persons arrested

Landrat reported [?] 80,000 RM

+ thrown in internment camp

[?] cap in his office Former Nazi [?]

because of offices head under Nazi hes key. If approved visits [?] the regime.

[?] will burn. What shall [?] ? I took over functions [arrow to June 3]Capt Cope leaves for U.S.

No answer [?]

Lt Lanning is

Collection forcing [?] in my [?]

3 June We got rid of Capt Stazenhov

today. Following our directive we ordered him to go. He could not. He had to have his [?] fired. "You must go." Maj Peahe insisted

"I cannot leave Hersbruck.

I have ordered boats + they have not arrived."

"Be out of here by 7:30."

A snapping [?] but the face of a dog that has been whipped for no reason. "I go. I obey I am a soldier."

At 7:30 Maj Peake sent soldier to the Captians imbroglio in the 27 July Arrested a [ripped page]

trying to make of with German [?] motorcycle. He was surprised as don't that a US officer should back a G. D. krant against an American. Someone should explain to troops that if we plunder when we plunder
we become just another conquering army sowing seeds for we are following footsteps of

next war. [?] than^ Napoleon Kaiser Wilhelms I + II + Hitler.

Its t stop that Why all food sent from U.S? Wheren land of feeding your beaten enemies? Except US of the last war.

Nuremberg

(see book)

Nuremberg [?]

They tell [me] us many of the Saarlanders
are still living on the deserted railroaded
train at Henfenfeld, still hoping some day it will pull out for the Saar. R.R. [?]
cant get them off. We sent the Landrat orders that army must evacuate the train by 1200 tomorrow.

[page ripped]
Schichedary + pretty blonde wife

We went to Nuremberg today Lt. Hurst [?] took us on a tour of the station because I had confessed I thought there was only one. He says the one that was just started when war broke out was to hold 400,000

ETO

we saw the tail end of the ^ Olympic swimming championships.

Nuremberg reversed blocks +c (see book)

No Fraternization is officially off it seems _ that is in public places.

Tank commander(?)

30 July – Young medical captain called on me today. With him was a pretty young girl looking exceedingly fetching in a pair of bright army pants + an army shirt. The captain introduced himself as Capt Sirenollow + the young girl as his bride. They were married last week in Prague [in] [?] the first wedding in the Jewish synagogue in Prague since 1938. The Captain says it took all kinds of special dispensations from army officers to [?] the ambassadors [?] wedding. The going lady + from Budapest. She has no idea where her father or mother are or whether they are still alive now. A She has no papers. She herself was released by the allies from a concentration camp at Auschwitz Silesia. Where she was thrown simply because she was a Jewes.

She says they had shower baths
where certain ill persons were given a [?] sent for a "refreshing shower." The instead of water
showers when turned on ^ was asphyxiating lethal gas.eous
The incinerator was next to her barracks. She saw hundreds of bodies carried in.

this man but watch him carefully

[circled]20[circled]

he may prove dangerous" This I on him sign and date. Then on line 13 I write a reply to myself – yes, sir. I have done as you suggest" This I sign and date. About once every 20 fragebozens a civil claims after I cant resist getting mad at [?] M.G.O. [?] I stick in a sarcastic note along this line "You may think this guy is O.K. but I don't, I'm firing him, see" or "What have against the lad? He's not a 'mandatory removal' I'll use my own judgement about letting him go" It's an interesting game. Takes a lot of time but by [?] we shall be able to report that we have processed 18 August Soldiers have hit civilians + taken [?].

Public gathering authorized for horse trading.
3 cases of falsifying fragebozens prosecuted stiff sentinces. 160 days hard labor.

Need for [?]. M.S. troops internment camps take so much difficult to take care of civilian needs for winter. [?] work not operating for lack of coal. No coal for private heating. No coal received from Bavaria Econ Office despite powers.

I am No of [?] due to lack of demand for office workers + professional people. Shortage in skilled traides
[?]
in taking many of [?]
First request for formation of a labor union. Gasoline shortage continues.

of all rounds

all the officials ^ and most of the other persons of influence in Hersbruck Kreis – 870 in all –
we should have thrown out about

____ [?], our local communist complains there are still too many Nazis in office, but Roizer, non Nazi burgermeister claims 96% of the office holders were Nazi party members many forced in [?]
1. Aug Took Mercedes to Furth for a conference. Left here late. Got arrested for speeding ([?] same M.P.s I had ordered into Kreis) so was really late by time we reached Nuremburg. Housselt plunged into the ^ old city. "He knows a shortcut" I thought. The roads through the ruins were narrow because of the piles of debris. As Housselt kept twisting they kept getting narrower Finally we were going over debris, had to stop several times to throw [?] + stones out of our path. It got later + later + got madder + madder. We got to a place where we could go no further. And it was impossible to turn around.

ruined

Housselt smiled his [?] false teeth smile. "Road bad" he
he announced and gave up. I puted around till I found a gang of PW.
cleaning debris. Marched them to the car + got the road cleared so we could squeeze through. A half block farther Housselt stopped the car.
"Whats the matter now?" I groaned
"Nothing. That is mine house" with a pleased grin he pointed
little

out what ^ remained of a house several floors open to a house sliced in two so that rooms had only 3 walls

He had got me into all this mess just to show me his home.
I could have choked him. 'Drive on' I roared + he did such but still muttering mine house, mine house.

On the way back from Furth

we were stopped in Nuremberg by a pretty girl who said in broken English that her mother was wounded in the head would the major take mother home? Yes. We got mother whose head was much swelted in bloody looking bandages into the car + home. I sent Housselt to help her up to her room. The young girl came back to the car. "Did you want me?" she aloof beamed "No." I replied "Well could you give me some cigarets?" yes + I

I write down this because it is apparent handed her a pack. ^ I have never let down a favor for a German that he has not ask immediately asked another. Fraternization

Our report shows we have [?] 40 top ranking officials, because of Nazi affiliation

[?]

2. August – A farmer came to see us today, much perturbed. He had against assembling. It read the Proclamation ^ prohibitsing more than 5 to congregate.

But you see I want to put you "My trouble is" he said There's a German army truck, all burned up by your soldiers, right in my field.
I want to pull it out, but it it's going to take will surely take more than 5
horses to pull that truck out."

refugees

[?] of getting rid of Saarlanders

3 [?] we are getting more mostly

300 arrived by train today ^ Silesians,
East Prussians
Saarlanders, North Germans + Austrians
- all mostly women + children. Able bodied were screened out before the train was sent. – and our Saarlanders, and in
[?]

3 Aug - Took the 16 year old boy start his 4 year sentence

who shot his brother to a ^ prison near Donauworth – a pleasant enough looking jail – a former convent.

The head keeper looked + acted quite human said boy's brother can visit him every 3 months.

Had a [?] of time getting across the Danube because all the bridges are knocked out – finally found a little ferry near-

put

Left, ^ Daniels at 3rd Rgt Hq in Augsburg. All his army records

[circled]29[circled]

were lost in the bulge + they are trying to [?] out new ones. From Augsburg took another autobahn to Munich – Latter is not as completely wrecked as Nuremburg but somehow to me is more depressing. Nuremburg is flat + the sun pours down on rubble ruins debris + an occasional tower. Munich as you drive through its streets look like any other big drab city – until you realize that all the buildings are shells gutted inside. Walking at night past block after block of ghost buildings is

4. Aug – Trying to get enough coal keep hospitals, dairies + bakeries I open I tackled G4 – Third Army altho I knew I was breaking cutting channels

G4 is in a huge [?] structure with a series of fairly slow moving elevators that never stop. You just hop on + off as they go by the floors. By much 3rd Army pleading I got an ^ approval for 70 tons of coal – enough to keep the essential services going a week or so more.

On the way home I stopped off at Dachau – saw the huge row of incinerators, the showers

shower rooms which ^ actually sent out lethal gas, another set of gas chambers with printed instructions to leave victims in for 30 minutes - altho 11minutes was supposed to do the job. In a room stained with blood where bodies had been piled toward the end where

when they were being killed to fast to burn they showed us barrels of ashes, human ashes. "Most of it was sold to nearby farmers for fertilizer." our guide said "They claim now they didn't know what it was but they could have guessed all [?] of cause the guards used to bury

They used to let [?] them one 10% of those who died so me on the inside would think that was all that died. "The Germans had 70,000 in the camp. We have only 20,000 so far. Today I have asked several

4. August

Germans about Hitler + Eva Braun. One or two had heard of Eva from Americans not a one ever heard of her before the debacle.

I arrived back here at Hersbruck to find a host of minor trouble + one big one. 1st Lt. Hurst my

```
ex supervisor excellent property
Control Public Utilities + Transportation Officer is ordered back to his uni military unit. Hope it means return to US
        the grain transit is under way. Every little village has a threshing machine whisky away with a group of lightly clad, hard working young + old men + women [?]
5 August – More bad news.
Stars + Stripes has been borrowing
that a reduction in points was coming today the Army says flatly "No" - 85 points is the minimum to get out - and I have just 84 points
    months in service to 8 may 45 - 18 overseas
                                    15
          3 battle stars
                                    15
          3 children
                                   36
                                    84
   84
 I figure + figure, but can't 65
squeeze out another point.
Announcement came out today
that Stalin, [?] + Truman had come to an agreement – From the resume of the agreement published in Stars + Stripes it sounds all Stalin to me.
```

[circled]31[circled]

A "Special Branch" team visiting Hersbruck to locate Germans capable as evaluators says this was strongest Nazi Kreis in all Franconia, if not all Bavaria. The [?]faction [?]
plaguing havoc with local govt officers but the new people will [?] learn the ropes in this.
7. Aug A disgruntled group visited

the Landrat

me today from Henfenfeld. They say ^ we finally threw out the Nazi burgermeister of the village only to replace him by his son in law. They claim the Lutheran priest finally runs the village, and that the Lutheran priest is so Nazi he preached a sermon + prayed for those now in the internment camps.

we are today over [?]

the

all the property of Nazis in ^ internment camp has been offer Bakery that makes bread for internment camps is closing because of coal [?]

Coal continues critical. We are closing the brewery; even tho it makes beer only for + hence [?] coal support U.S. troops^ – beer from Newark, NJ.

X Belon

8. Capt Glaser + I inspected the Hermann Goering Inow Works. as the se which It has not been operating since the occupation probably

+ ^ will not operate for a long time to come. The superintendent a bushy moustashed, ^ but [?] German of the old school ploted us through the warships, at a rapid clip. We had only one [?]. I called back to Capt Glaser as I heard him limber over some fallen rock.

[?]

expedition

"I'm Ok" he [?], "but this ^ must be that underground movement we be been looking for." Home to read about the atomic bomb.

Nearly 1500 discharged German soldiers have registered at the Labor office here (they have to register to get ration coupons) Labor office reports that most soldiers wont stay on farms. They work a day or two + then drift away.

The Germans are making one [?]

[?]

[circled]3 + a[circled]

9 Aug

The Kreis architect has submitted plans for rebuilding Velden, the

the capital portion [?]

small town which was^ almost [?] demolished by U.S. artillery fire as our troops advanced into

[?]

this region. ^ Streets will be [?]

well design

and straightened. ^ [?]

must replace the | Plans have been drawn for the erection of well designed modern buildings but preserving the Franconian architecture.

The whole thing has been planned on a modest war table basis. The two and a half years.

[?] will take

Stocking of fire wood for winter is well started.

[?] phone service, for

[?] approved by Mil. Govnt. It is different for us who have phone communication + newspapers to realize how the thinking of Germans is effected by lack of knowledge of what goes on in a wider world. A few have radios but only they frequently get distorted [?] -

Shortage of soap has been relieved temporarily. These cleanly Germans are overjoyed.

[circled]32[circled]

9. Aug Atomectry of MGO at Ansbach Colonel Andrews of Nuremburg has moved into town +with their dog + pony show + about taken it over. "This morning a major General called me in and said 'You will deliver at once 150 typewriters, 75 good motor cars, +c, +c.' I replied 'Yes sir' and saluted. Lord knows where I'll ever find the stuff."

10. The Countess Irmgard Vou L

of Hersbruck

came here because she called came in today to say she ^ is trying to buy Henfenfeld castle for a religion Lutheran school for girls but the owner, Countess von S is away. The caretakers say the Americans have taken her away.

'That's all right" I replied "The Countess von S has just gone on a short trip. If you will return in about two weeks I'm sure she will be back." [circled] the [?][circled] I did not tell her ^ that we had put the Countess von S in hospital confinement because she had contracted disease in the course of her more than Platonic interests in the U.S. officers billeted in her castle.

Harvest is good but food not over plentiful Nazis

due to refugees, D.Ps + the 5000^ in the Internment Camps, all of whom are fed by the Landkreis.

10. The Do called doctor who is leader of the Polish D.Ps

at Henf Hartenstein insists he must have an automobile

+ the U.S. officer backs him up. I took it away from him a week ago, but am returning it under protest. All the American officers say this man is O.K. but leader

every D.P.^with whom I have dealt

has proved swindled and lied.

[circled]The Lutheran priest of Henfenfeld after my orders arrived^ with Dr. Nuninger the dean of [?]

Lutheran church.^[circled] The father was so excited the perspiration shown on his forehead. "I am disgraced." he mourned "The whole village knows I have been ordered to report to Military Govrnt about a sermon. And it is all lies, lies." He produced an affidavit from members of his parish that he had never prayed for internees. I told him not to worry that he was exonerated. Immediately he demanded the names of his detractors + that they be tried before Military Govnt "It is these charges that cause all the burgermeister trouble" he told us "The major^ Forrenbach burgermeister

slaps a woman the major of [?] peaks a stich over a man. The man designated burgermeister

for mayor^ of Kirchenicttenback gets into a brawl. These things never happened before, but you have put men in office who never had experience or power and you put out all those who know how to govern.

"Because they were all Nazis," I add.
"I know. I know" and he subsided altho his fragebozen isn't bad I'm sure he is thoroly Nazi at heart.
I shall have to investigate the whole Henfenfeld station. It has been

Henfenfeld station. It has been a festering spot since May with changes + countless charges. The farmers

[?] radicals + [?]

there are ^ Nazis + the R.R. workers are ^ The feud between them goes back is constant.

11 Aug -----

Lt Col Chester Cohen dropped

+ we celebrated this

in for the evening^ He told how he had been ordered from England

to report to NETOUSA in North Africa

when he finally reached Algiers

NETOUSA had gone to Naples. By this time enough letters + cables had gone back + forth to straighten the situation

out NETOUSA had been disbanded

meanwhile he spent a pleasant + useful

3 months in Algiers helping hold down a bubonic plague.

[?] hear it got

so bad they had men

stationed at wharfs to [?] by [?] to kill rats as they [?] ships

todays [?] is

JAPAN OFFERS TO SORRENDER 34

UNDER By 4 [?] Terms

In [?]

12 Aug Capt Glaser, Capt Swerdlow

pretty

+ his ^ Hungarian wife + I Went [drove] out to [?] just beyond our Kreis. From the air

I had seen an old castle said to have been owned by Hermann

few hundred yards down path a ^ quarter of a mile up the road which led around thru an archway + finally into the castle courtyard where we found a low two story building. Capt Swerdlow knocked on the door no answer. He pushed it open. An obviously frightened German peasant woman stood staring at us. Just then a tall Goering. We found the castle gate had an "off limits sign" but

Capt Glaser found a little

In margins:

Allies believed Debating note sent via [?]

distinguished looking blonde woman in a well cut pale blue ___

Ach. Frau Goering.

Mrs. Swerdlow who speak

Frau Goering perfectly possessed turned to Mrs. Swerdlow asked introduced herself + asked what she could do for us. Mrs. Swerdlow who speaks German explained that we should like grounds

to look around[at] the castle ^. Frau Goering side walked out^ with us, + telling[told] us a little that the castle was started in 900 finished in 1100 +c girl

Hhad just-When a youngster ^ about 6 years old darted out of the house when she saw the American uniforms she started back but Frau Goering called her + made her shake hands with each of us. She was absolutely frightened stiff + immediately hid herself in the folds of her mothers tea gown.

It was obvious from their newness there Goering had rebuilt most of the castle walks On a weathervane we noticed the initials HG + the date 1942. Just as Frau Goering said they were living primitively the Americans having taken all the furniture out of the house. I asked Mrs. Swerdlow to tell her we wouldn't have intruded had we known it was a private house. As we turned to leave my eye was caught by a big wardrobe trunk sitting next the ground flour window with initials H.G. painted in red. I wondered if the trunk had been packed ready for the great marshal of the Luftwaffe to leave when he found there was no place for him to go.

This evening I held the first public meeting in the Kreis in order to read General Eisenhower's proclamation. About 1500 persons were present gathered on the green in front of the Gymnasium when I marched up the steps + read the proclamation sentence Herr with ^ Groshel translating sentence by sentence. As Groshel spoke I looked out over the 1500 faces, Not an expression.[circled] Every face was like stone[circled] At the end came a scattering of [?] rolls

but one poor Gobel, unable to forget his training, raised his hand
in a stiff arm salute + shouted
'Heil' A ripple of amusement
went over the crowd, showing they are humorous
after all.

13 Aug Advise Con
Coal shortage is still [?].

Am told that a printer in Furth giving the [?]

is selling diplomas certificates proving that holder had been interred in Dachau prison + hence should have specially good treatment.

These so called "Diplomas from Dachau" sell for 5 marks each.

14 Aug. I served today on an

[?] the wars over. At least we had a
[?] of [?] just after beachfort on the straights of a radio [?]
Interndechts court at Nuremburg later I went to Nuremburg to [?]
We had one trouble because the War Crimes Commission is taking over the Court House but they finally agreed to let us use it this last time. Our first case was a woman charged with having kept a weapon. Alas [?]

with having worn back for Hitler death. She told us frankly she was a convinced Nazi "I thought the Americans would send me to Russia. I was resolved to die first
+ so I kept the revolver. But I turned it in May 9. In July you declared an amnesty. If I had held it till July I would not have been arrested."

in our chambers when We adjoined ^ + the two lawyers got into on the court got into a heated argument. We finally gave her a suspended sentence of 4 years but when I found these two good lawyers taking opposite sides on every case
I decided our Seminary Court
in Heresbruck where neither the prosecutor with no lawyers is nor the judge has legal training ______is probably doing all right
so

15/ Back to our court to hear the case against [?], a non Nazi burgermeister of Rechensirent who smacked alleged an ^ Nazi over the head so hard he broke a stich the size of a broomstick. The Nazi it seems had refused to give up a room on order of burgermeister. Ro I gave the burgermeister 60 days but suspended all but 14. Told him he had the local police + backing of US. troops to answer his orders. He did not used to do it himself. I asked a German about the atomic bomb. He said it was invented by 2 German Jews who [?] to the US. 16/ Off for a 2 day leave on the Riviera -

was A pleasant enough time but miserable trip down + back, and the Riviera made it is so like me homesick for Florida bright blue sky + sea, palm trees, ollainders, dancing outdoors, +c. [boxed]Someone very much [?] were passed out to me as 5000 francs a night. A [?] his motive[boxed] On the way back I talked with soldiers who had been stationed at Berlin. One had ^ sent $8,00000 home, another laughed "Why sent home $8,000 - and our C. Ostill has $11,000 he doesn't have send home on account of the stink." "Hand [?]" I ask "Why these Russki will buy anything. 6000 or 2000 marks ($600 or $700) for a watch - and if it has anything special about it like a nice loud tick another hundred or so marks.

[?]

[Sides of Page] My [?] why [?] anyone pay 3000 francs to sleep with an old like that. I know the prettiest [?] 18 franc sum in Cannes. She wasn't [?] [?]

[circled]28[circled]

"You know what I sold?"
one boy confided blushingly
"It just happened that one of these pro kits packages fell out of my pocket. Russki picks it up hands it back to me. I make gestures to show what its good for. Broad grin on Russians face + he hands me 150 marks. Fifteen dollars for that pro kit. The that one."

As suspected I found Captain tactful, quiet, capably to Glaser has handled the Kries exceedingly perfection

^ well in my absences all the more reason why I should go back to US.
+ leave it to him.

some

30 Reported that ^ U.S. soldiers leaving who had gotten hold of some [?] horses [?] area ^ were selling Wehrmacht horses to circus. I jailed [?] circus till I rounded horses up. Released him just in time to open circuses. Then got C O of troops to collect money to give back. Turned horses over to Landrat, but told him I wanted one to ride. I've been riding on old rented plug while the soldiers galloped about on good horses 31. Forces major in German army said he knew war was lost in winter of 41-42 when Hitler changed generals. His wife teased him about girls in Paris where he was stationed during part of war. 3 Sept - Adv. Committee advised about soldiers + late hours

4 Sept – I got the leading member of advisory together + told them we felt we should change Landrats because of Dr. Matt having been a party member.

after

He did not join till ^ '39 after country was at war but we ful head of govnt should never have been a Nazi. They all recommend Roiger burgermeister" city of Hersbruck. each alone 6 Sept. We called in Roiger then Matt + told them of change. Matt seemed actually relieved, especially when he was told he could stay on in a lesser position. (Otherwise his bank account would be blocked) This evening I went to a meeting with CIC in Lanf at which 5 Germans from Nuremburg explained old drains

3 Sept

10 Sept The Advisor Council tells us that the girls who go out with US soldiers are the same who used to having [?] the S.S. troops, and that it bothers respectable citizens when these girls

or

flaunt curfew laws and steal vegetables + fruit knowing they will be protected by US soldiers. A policeman who arrested a girl for being out after curfew got beat up the next day by her American boy friend. At Eashibuch someone posted a drawing of a pair of shoes and a warning to girls that their hair will someday be shaved by them [?] to go out with U.S. soldiers.

People are disturbed by all sorts of rumors also since a trainload of D.Ps (claimed to be Russians) fired a volley of shots as the train passed the internment camp. Actually no one was hurt but the memo has listed 12 internees [?] + 2 US guards killed. young Another ^ German woman has committed suicide by drowning in the Pegnitz. It appears to have been due to a love affair. Fortunately no American is involved.

[circled]39[circled]

[Page ripped on side] of old political parties.

One was from Bavarian Peoples Party (Catholic) one from Social Democrats and one from Communist Party. All emphasized need of unity + said their parties would not develop factualism. I asked if young people were showing any interest in politics. All said "No! They tend too thoroughly indoctrinated with Nazism still." After the meeting [?] asked if it would be possible for non Nazi Germans to help in denazification. "Many you have [?] are not at all Nazis at heart." they insist "They fought the party, but were forced to join. They include some of our best + truest Democrats. Others are still in power who were active Nazis even tho their fragebozens don't show it. We know we can do job." 190FA Groups Fri. 7 Sept. Lt. Col Warlington ^ + Capt T Woodworth of 200th FABs are taking over command of occupational troops. He is [?] on M.Ps to show army [?] + prevent looting on part of soldiers or their German girls. (adv Com - [?]+c.)

I heard this morning that we had last night own trouble ^ in our ^ Hq. It seems that the old lady who takes care of sewing +c for us + Maria, one of waitresses live in one small room on top floor. They are envious (Germans seem to come to hate each other easily.) Last night went down to the basement water mama^ divided about 2 AM ^ to take a shower – I suppose that's only time she feels safe as soldiers use only shower in the house. The old woman had not been well eaten so well that did not agree with her. At 2'55 she woke up with great need to go the bathroom. The door was locked the outside + mama gone. the knocked+ knocked, yelled + yelled. [?] workings but we had no [?]. By the time mama was finally located the old Hq was in [?]. The only one who slept through the disturbance was the MGO - a sound sleeper with a good conscience.

8 Sept. A new C.O for another [?] billeted in the area arrived
this afternoon + [?] word
that we must have a [?]
by nightfall. This I learned is one of those donerdecher things windows high filled with feathers that they put on the beds over here instead of comforters. I sent word to Landrat that a donerdecher must be provided at 7 pm an embarrassed 1st Lt arrived. The Colonel [?]
had not [?] been delivered. I offered nods

mine and he refused ^ another [?] the burgermeister must [?] militant having whether or not Colonel recent his his donerdecher

The version of these

Roizer now Landrat [?]
report today on the difficulties
had faced as Burgermeister of city of Hersbruck, bombed homes,
too little food, shortages of nearly everything
He ended the report as follows:

"The [?] to these difficulties in capital letters ought to be the words were once in general use.

For ALL THAT WE THANK OUR FUEHER."

[Page torn] Sunday 9 Sept New Colonel doesn't [?] his home + wants another. I told them Colonel must get Corps approval. The donerdecher is not as delivered but is not [?] is made of cotton. Provost Marshal reported that jeep through Heipperg about 125 [circled]yesterday[circled](930 pm) A move wine listed arose mood to enough to clear wood. He leaped youths were holding it out drove [?] getting also reported that [?] enland across the road looks like real possible actively we have been new all along. I called in the ^ Landrat all along. I called in the ^ Landrat him it must be probed to bottom. Otherwise there would be trouble for everyone.

new

The ^ Landrat himself much worried, promised action. He told no German soldiers are threatening to shave heads of German girls who go out with American

These he says are the same girls who used to go out with SS troopers and are the scum of the community yet they get special privileges. (While I was away a soldier beat up a German policeman who had arrested his girl for being out after curfew.) About 8 PM + a US Lieutenant Thought 3 Russian staff officers drove up + asked if they could spend the night. They are driving from Frankfurt to Prague. We put them up + spent the evening with them. Only one speaks English but all were interested in Capt Glasers LIFE magazines. When one dawdled over pictures of girls in bathing suits I told him I had read that Russians never looked at girls' legs. "They are the same all over the world" he replied. He would have liked to have found a fountain to "[?]" - take a walk - but said he knows they German girls ^ are all afraid of Russians in this area. "It is just the opposite [?]

the Russian young Germany." he claimed. "There they are happy mother Russian ride + fraud of Americans."

our Colonel experience All 3 of Russians ^ looked like and

[?]

acted like intelligent ^ high type officers. Our meeting was a good antidote so the taste left in my mouth by my contacts with the proud ^ officer Stazenhov who may not have been a Russian at all. [circled]I and Landrat [?]

Ru

When [?] himself moves this asked what had [?] of war [?]. She bought shiny all up [?] I answered because [?] they would look ridiculous to [?]

10 Sept- At breakfast this morning the Russian officer tried to cut cereal with a fork. What do you eat [circled] youngest officer replied proudly "In Russia the [?] belong to all the people.)[circled] for breakfast in Russia? I asked. "Well that depends. answered the English speaking officer. "The rich people eat meat tea and The poor eat bread + coffee – We drink a great deal of tea you know. I wanted to answer that I thought all the food belonged to all the people – but felt it more diplomatic to keep my tongue in my mouth or perhaps in my cheek.

10/ Received a report from Landrat recommending firing a so called victim of the Nazis who set [?] up in the Kreis as a [?] because he has "caused to death many animals."

I just learned today that the great Schaefer the wise guy from Pittsburgh who boasts so much about how he risked his life to surrender the city to the Americans has never submitted a fragebozen. 11/ Our great werewolf [?] activity case proved a flop. When I went to court this morning I found a frightened little 13 year old boy accused of having "endangered the security US forces" by pulling a wire across the road at Happurg. In the course of the trial it developed that a crowd of youngsters were [?] milkmaids on their way home with milkpacks (an old Bavarian custom) when the US jeep came through. The [?] on prizes was drawn ^ across the road it appears

[?] some drunken US soldiers.

We got a fragebozen out of Schaefer today He joined the Nazi party in 1935. [?] out he goes from official life. I wrote a dismissal letter to the Landrat today.

[?]

12 – Sept Emil Held ^ came to ask for a pass to visit the French zone of occupation saying French have complicated 30,000 R.M. worth of his only hops. He is ^ one of big business men of kreis who never joined the party + is highly respected. He urged me to hold off on permitting political activity for awhile saying explaining that German politics is not like American politics.

he said

"In your country " ^ "Republicans + Democrats sit down to lunch together. They do business with each other. After elections they forget politics. Here it is not like that. One German will not speak or have any dealings with another who differs

[Ripped top]

_ther boy

Once I did not show up a Hitler youth meeting. I was imprisoned for a day and a night in a bare room in the Rathaus. no bed, no chair, no blankets, not crawled anything but I climbed^ down the drain pipe + got away. The next day the Hitler Youth leader caught me + beat me with his fists.

Hitler – Most looked away +
said they could not say.
they only knew Hitler Youth had taught them. One spoke up s "My father always-says now Hitler How he have
could not have been a great man.
He was a workman on houses?"
Another with a [?] his [?] said Hitler He was a liar.

[Ripped top]

[?]

Hitler Youth — "We had nothing but war games, marching and exercising. Now we are freer to play as we like. On tells how a 15 year old member of Hitler Youth had right to carry loaded revolver to keep youths under 16 from entering work

One day. I was not a member of Hitler Youth, but when we were bombed out I was sent to a Youth camp. At first we had civilian leaders. Then came Hitler Youth leaders. I was hungry. I wrote home that I wanted to go home. They opened my letters + were angry. They made me stand with arms stretched out like this [circled]straight ahead[circled] for one hour all the time singing. If I did not obey all commands promptly they beat me with their fists or made me kneel down + [circled]a youth leader wear hot [circled] jumped ^ on my back with[circled]tacked shoes[circled] Danish supplies for

Czech Slovakia

4 Danes + c.

Place for night sent out stand +

to kitchen to ^ wait.

Fight between U.S. white +

black troops Nuremburg.

29 May recommended pro F.M.

letter + [?]

16 July – wrote fellow n

4 Aug Talked to man from Told woman never received by Regt.

7 Aug Wrote stray letter

demanding in real of promotion

28 Aug Col Crawford Capt Glaser May 29-July 16

[?]

31 Aug Tracer on letter Aug 7

[?] and man

3 Sept – Talked with C O about n

11 Sept Recommended F M again

[Ripped bottom]

[?]

[circled] 43[circled]

from him politically 13 Sept. When I went down to breakfast I found the whole mess room a bower of flowers Even my chair had [?]

and grey leaves + goldwork twined about it. Over a huge basket of roses were the numerals '50' and 50 lighted candles were on the table.

Someone had told someone it was my birthday. As I sat down in my wreath bedecked chair Capt Glaser looked at me. "Sir he remarked "You look first like the horse that has just won the derby."

Just as I finished breakfast a pretty little blonde 10 year old girl with dressed in white with a wreath of white flowers in her hair came to present me with slow but broken
in English

very happy birthday." They tell me she was chosen because she learned the sentences best – and also, I suspect, for her looks.

During the morning various officials came, bowed + respectfully wished the Herr Commandant me a Happy Birthday.

This afternoon I went out to see how our youth program is working. Thursday is a day of recreation. [?] youngsters were swimming, playing ball games told dancing+ singing under the supervision of our non Nazi group. (The latter looked younger + peppier than when I saw them a few weeks ago. Maybe the sorriest have dropped by the wayside) Everyone of the youngster seemed to be honestly having a grand time.

+ chase

"They had nothing like this under the Nazis" Herr Glas explained. "Only murder, drilling + war games." 14 September Today is a sad day for Detachment H265. William Gutbrod left us to go home because he is 40 years old. Born not so many miles from here speaking German as well or better than English but a true American if there ever was one. Gutbrod has been a tower of strength. He not only knows their language, but he knows what to say to them as Lt Lannings assistant in the early [?] days he growled + roared at the [?] + other high Nazis till they broke + confessed all. Once when a man denied that he was a Storm Trooper – Gutbrod with a punch gesture tore his shirt off his back. "There you are Lieutenant, look at that" Gutbrod pointed [?] marking

to the fatal ^ tattoo of which every

SS man or woman. With all his ferocity was a kindly soul underneath.

The people of Hersbruck respected + feared respected

him but they also thought very^ his honesty + utter loyalty to Lt Lanning himself.

This afternoon we had[brought] all the burgermeisters, the Advisory Committee and all county officials to discuss the problems of the Kreis. I told them frankly that they have difficult years ahead. Shortages of food, clothing, farm machinery, fertilizer, seeds + hundreds of small items + urged them to work together instead of fighting amongst themselves + also warned them that subversive activity would mean a much sterner military government and one that would last forever.

"We are just as anxious as you to see that stable

you form a real Democratic peaceful government real because we want to go home"

I told them. the Detachment

This afternoon we beat Lauf at volley ball, possibly because I stayed in the office pretending to work.

15 September. The Detachment seems to be breaking up. Lt. Hurst left today. His going will leave a huge gap. He came in about the middle of June with no previous experience in military government work. at him the control of financial institution I threw ^ public works ^ post offices telephone + telegraph, transportation [?]

industry, rationing of automobiles for essential travel, [?] to some gasoline + rationing of our meagre stores of gasoline for civilian use, as well as progressive busses + trucks. Shortly afterword I made him property control officer which means he controlled + managed all the property in the kries belonging [?] including the big [?]

to the German government ^ the Nazi party

managed controlled the blocking of bank accounts of Nazis quite a list of duties for a young man not his university

yet graduated from local school
But he handled them all ably + forcefully.
Threw the partition between my office + his I often heard him shouting at a group of cowed German functionaries gathered around his desk. but They had to wait for the interpreter to find out what he wanted done but they knew from his tone he meant business.

I learned today that the Catholic priest was attacked by US. soldiers.
Here is his rather pathetic letter:

The DP camps at Hartenstein closed Polish
the "doctor" who was camp leader
for the coop
ran away before when he learned what was to happen. Then it came out that camp's
he had been trading ^ food provided fro

he had been trading ^ food provided from orders by [?] for himself.

When I also learned that US troops of a series of holdings by US troops I decided it is time for drastic action.

It seems they [?] till just before curfew having home

They stroll up to German A + ask him who

They stroll up to German ^ + ask him what time it is. If he looks at wrist they grab him + take his watch. If he chases

[?] to get to the police station after them ^ he will be arrested for breaking curfew. Being a German he rushes home + reports a robbery the next day. Four such incidents in two days, as well as complaints of drunken soldiers breaking doors + other disturbances.

The CO of occupational troops promised me today to put out more MPs the whole city of

+ to issue a warning that ^ Hersbruck will be put "Off Limits" if this continues.
"But it's damn difficult to control troops when a unit gets 60% to 90% replacements in every few days – all the older men real soldiers going home. And the one with officers
I have lost almost 80% of my officers.
The officers to replace them are just

se [?] officer
coming in. They have to run the internment camps the D.P. camps,
the P.W camps +c train these green men when they don't know what its all about. But I'm not worrying I'm going myself in a few days +
so are most of the rest of my officers."
17. Boys

Do you play in some groups you did before U.S. troops came Yes

Are any of the groups likely to cause trouble for US soldiers?

No – emphatic + sanely sincere

What sort of movies did you see before U.S. soldiers came?

"Detective stories and funnies – they all answered. No mention of propaganda films, which they either 1. Did not see

- 2. Saw but promptly forgot
- 3. Saw + remember but felt it tactful to omit in [?] written in.

Our boy told how a Hitler youth 15 year old carried a revolver because he had been selected to keep other youngsters out of movies when pictures were playing to which children [ripped] 16 were not admitted (This [ripped] [?] Germany)

After talking with these clear eyed boy legged youngsters I am convinced that Hitler has not impregnated the boys 13,14,15,16 of this region with any ideas which cannot be knocked out in a few months.

They all talk so enthusiastically of being freer now, that I am against too much restricted play. Plenty of football, hiking, team

all

games [?] but ^ as much as possible on a voluntary basis. That's part of teaching them Democracy. of boy 13, 14 say Frankly Jews. Most say wide eyed "I am only 13 -14 whatever I know I don't know any Jews – all I have known of Jews is what Hitler Youth said, but I suppose it was propaganda. I don't know.

Why did Germany lose the war?

Older Nazis say "We lacked material. Our soldiers were as good as any."

One 14 year old boy looked at me quietly replied – Germany couldn't win now that I know all the wrong Germans did. I know we could not win. A 13 year old says firmly. "It was because the officers talked too much." What do you think of US troops?

Some eyes light up. I like them They are firm + good to us. One replies with I speak English but I never speak to U.S. troops unless to answer a question. Another I am told not to play with them. They will play with you + they take your watch.

What do you think about German girls going out with U.S. soldiers?

Older boys don't like it, but one says "I don't care as long as [she]it isn't my girl." Several say "that's their unusual I-said there German girls must know what they are doing."

Most of these boys [?] want to go or work for U.S. troops -

to America ^ more than half ask how they can get jobs working for U.S. troops (opportunely for chocolate or cigarettes don't rather than genuine [?] doubllers [?]

The boys 13, 14, 15 seem to have much more definite ideas of what they will do when grown than similar age groups in U.S. Only one does not know. Two have all plans made to become foresters highly in this [?])

drippets +c

Others will be merchants ^ one who works in printing wants to be a reporter. Another has always wanted be chemist but his father says man has no future for chemists in Germany.

18 The [?] appointed non Nazi Police Chief testified in court today. boo dark blue

He came wearing the new ^ uniform designed by approved by Mil Govnt.

It includes the same cap with the high arch in front that Germans officials have worn since Kaiser William the Great – I guess – certainly since World War I. It grates on me. Am sorry our people showy

did not insist on a less involved^ uniform – and one without boots –
a woman I knew in Paris – a very broadminded woman who knows Germany
+ likes Germans once said to me "You should take their boots away. They love the marshal sound of tramping boots and clicking heels. Take away their boots
+ they will become peaceful likable
When I her advice everyone people." Laughs, but I think she had something.[circled]^myself[circled]

Three

Two Danish officers, a Czech officer, a member of the international Red cross and a really beautiful woman - also a Danish Red Cross worker

[?]

I believe stopped ^ in ask if they could find lodgings for the night. It seems they are convoy handling a gift shipment of Danish butter, cheese, bacon + lard which is being sent to the starving Czechs as a gift of the Danish people. They

The Czech officer a [?] man of [?] knows [?]

my good friend Capt Malac whom I saw a great deal of in Charlottesville and later in London

are to meet the convoy here. We were entertaining the colonel of the [circled] commanding the[circled] occupational troops + his executive for dinner but Capt Glazer arranged with one of the battalions to give them dinner + put them up for the night. About 8 pm the Czech officer – a cultured man of the world (a friend bad. When the convoy commander arose tell him to leave [?] "are going to continue on our way+ try to make [?] tonight" he said.

[circled]46[circled]

What's the matter? Capt Glaser asks. The Czech officer hesitated.
"Well" he said " At the place you sent us we were herded into the kitchen + told to wait till they had finished serving everyone else.
The US officers were – well pretty gruff about it. We waited quite time + decided to move of."
Capt G

[circled]47[circled]

19 September 19 persons from this Kreis have been released by Internment Camp all will be sent to Labor office which has orders to give them menial jobs involving hard labor.

We still cannot find any one with legal training in the Kreis who was not a[n] Nazi so cannot ojurn German courts. Cases are piling up. [circled]Only 10 tons of coal received[circled] this week. Hops back Harvest is good but distribution of food is problem due to lack of transportation. [?] are getting short.

Civilians are cutting [?] of wood, (running thru the forests they claim) under supervision of German foresters for Internment Camps + to provide fuel to keep them warm this winter.

Captain Glaser tells me that my one [?] pal Frederick Schaefer, once the hero who surrendered Hersbruck to the U.S. army, but whom he later relieved of official duties because we discovered he had joined the Nazi party in 1935, has a new job. He rounds up German girls for the dances + other guests for U.S. soldiers.

[Upside Down]

MJ

On Tues, 25 September, a man convicted of refusing to obey the order of a German policeman was sentenced [circled]prison[circled] to 35 days ^ at hard labor and to pay a fine of 300 R. M. Orders of burgermeister, state troopers, city police must be obeyed.

Persons who feel orders are unjust must nevertheless obey the order. They have the right afterward to complain to the Landrat or to the Advisory Committee. Such complaints will be investigated. [circled]lawful[circled] But ^ orders of authorized persons must be obeyed.

18 - 22 -

Youre never this age were distinctly more a look and careful in responses then younger boys.

All had been in Hitler Youth and in the German Army. All agreed that they had enjoyed being in the army. One was a glider specialist and expected to pilot a V3 until it was determined that he was too tall – that is the distance between his brain + his heart was too great for the pressure involved.

Only one showed any interest in religion. Others said they went once in awhile or not at all. One said his family

[Strike through page] gymnasium – G move furniture

House of Religion +

Otherwise voluntarily

graduated extra – Bible + pros

[?]

all who work with children must be approved by M.G.

Singing ✓

meetings – apply for Approval

obligatory instruction for HS

Mr. Baumhart

Meeting of teachers ✓ Landrat

Photos this afternoon ✓ Dr. Murimer

Reports ✓ Dr. Zangler

Boots ✓

games might be arranged between US soldiers + young Germans to foster good feeling.

One said that the actions of U.S. soldiers in Hersbruck made population believe U.S. army is made up of gangsters.

As to U.S. soldiers + German girls they all shrugged their They are ex soldiers themselves shoulders ^ "We did the same

in Poland[France]" said one "In Norway

it was I

3 June. We got rid of Captain Stazenhov today. Following instructions from above to send all Russian officers to a certain camp, Major Peake ordered Stazenhov to go. The Russian captain was sorry, but he could not go. He had to have his teeth fixed.

"You must go," Major Peake insisted.

"I cannot leave Hersbruck.
I have ordered boots and they have not arrived."

"Be out of here by two oclock this afternoon."

"Javoll" – the captain clicked his heels + saluted but he wore the look of a dog who has been whipped for no good reason.

At 2 P.M. Major Peake sent a sergeant and four men to Captain

[scribbled page]
3. June We got rid of Capt Stazenhov today. Following orders from send above Major Peake to ^return all Russian officers to a certain camp M

Who has a [?] acted

4 June The Catholic Priest came to me today with a problem. After mass [at the] for the political prisoners at the internment camp The Prince of Bavaria handed him 2 letters — one for the cardinal, the other for Robert Murphy. What should he do?

"Go right back quick + give those letters to C.O. of the internment camp. Do it pronto before I have to arrest you."

Pretty soon the Colonel in charge of the camp phoned me in a rage.

"That man[priest] should be arrested at once. "I'll never let him in here again"

I tried to I persuaded him that the arresting was foolish + could doubtless have arranged to get the priest back in to serve mass, but the latter refused "I never want to go near that place again" he insisted.

4 June – Major Snapps story of [?]

as prop [?] Nazi

5. June – The Landrat submitted his budget for June 158. 690 R. M outgr against 12,300 R.M. income. Only 167 tons of coal left in the kreis and none coming in.

DPs

Today I convicted 3 Russian's of stealing bicycles. They were huge bull headed youths who claimed they didn't speak German, so we had Captain 3 languages. When it finally got through their thick skulls that they were to be jailed for 6 months they cursed at me + shouted for Stazenhov. Hope away from

I'm out of here by the who German

1946 when they get out. who wants a I asked Landrat about Wahlder who wants a lot + a house. Landrat said burgermeister would like to call down us about Wahlder.

6 June Evacuated 812 Russians today now left in kreis.
Arrested a 16 year old boy for shooting his brother.
a load of Sudetenlanders were dumped here today. C.I.C. screened them + arrested 6 [?] a Kries [?] who was on their

list of wanted persons

7 June Burgermeister Roizer – non-Nazi

boy

brought me a ^ dossier on Wahleder Heivos not a political prisoner at all. His list of [?] is robberies + 'larcenies' goes back to 1935 His long sentence was for a sex crime.

In margins: [circled]13[circled] Reis [?]

[circled]8[cricled]

Gasthaus. Schwarz Adler. Capt Stzenhov was in bed with his latest and prettiest mistress.

"Come on. Get up. Get dressed." ordered the soldiers - + they drove him off to the camp for Russians near Nuremburg. He is a likable

rogue

person ^ in a way but I hope never to see him again. He has bribed the landleries of no one knows how much wine, cognac, beer, assorted food + clothing little of which reached the D.Ps + now I have learned that he was the famous U.S. major "Philadelphia" who looted right + left when the troops first came in.

We are rid of all our Russians a few but we are getting a ^ trainloads of Sudetenlanders or Silesians every day. I talked with a woman – one men women + children with all their possessions

of a group of 95 Silesians ^ in a horse + hand drawn caravan that has spent at least 10 days passing leisurely through the kreis.

"Where are you going?" I asked
"We don't know."
"What do you eat" a shrug
A shrug of the shoulders.
"But what are your plans?" I was getting impatient

"We have none," stolidly. "except she answered dully, "except to keep going somehow anywhere until we can go back once more to our homes in Silesia." and as she spoke the words "home" + "Silesia" her tired face lighted up for a moment.

I started to say this might be years or never, but thought 'What's the use. They'll be out of the kreis in another day or two + I can note: 3 Sept 1945 forget them." (But I never have quite. I sometimes think of them, journeying on + on, robbing a begging a little, robbing a little growing thinner + more haggared waiting that day which may be years off when the Russians will let them go back home to Silesia.

never come

Stazenhov's imbroglio in the Gasthaus Schwarz Adler. Captain Sazenhov was in bed with his latest and prettiest mistress.

"Come on. Get up. Get dressed." ordered the soldiers – and they drove the poor captain off to the camp for Russian officers.

He is a likeable rogue but he has bilked the landkreis out of I don't know how much wine, cog schnapps, beer, assorted food and clothing – most of which never got beyond his headquarters. It seems he now admits proudly that he was the famous "Major Philadelphia" who looted right and left in the first days of the occupation. I wonder what will happen to him under Stalin's

[circled]50[cricled]

Don't pay if killed off

Woman shot man

shots regularly

boats thru streets

Black market little –

Russian Childish friendly – drunk most of time

English Fr. US – popular. by most because still attitude toward Russians

govnt. center

Budapest. shots. Russian Officer

Nazi Whore

was seen by whole village

faked papers

Kreishoft

Russians driving cows – live off

country + none my suspicions were confirmed when

Happurg Guilbert I deduced

today the [?] left once to [?]

Wolf case emblem. Der ordner

Ortgruppulutiers Chealifurt 240 ct.